4. Connecticut Statewide Honor Guard Supporting the NFFF Memorial Weekend

This past week a contingent from CT went to the National Fallen Firefighter Foundation Memorial Weekend. Crews from several individual fire departments and our own State Honor Guard gathered to assist and support the various services that are conducted throughout the weekend.

The CT Statewide Honor Guard has been a part of this memorial weekend for many years and some of us are involved at many different levels of staffing. I really want to express my pride and gratitude in being part of such a great organization and to the members of The Connecticut Statewide Honor Guard who help make it all so special. Some of our team are part of Planning the overall weekend. Some are part of the Leadership that instruct and guide a particular event or service. Others attend and give presence and support to the families who are honored each year.

This year ran like a well-oiled machine. The presence of returning firefighters each year makes all the difference. We remain flexible with changes in schedule, locations due to weather or the President paying his respects; and keep the reason why we attend in our sights: The families and survivors of our fallen brethren.

I encourage those of you who could not attend this year to think about next year. The CT Statewide Honor Guard will always be at home among the troops from all over the US at our National Fallen Firefighter's Memorial Weekend. The impact of attending will always affect you on some sort of level. There are no words to express the gratitude from the families, but I guarantee you will see it on their faces in the many videos, pictures and memories from the weekend. Their loved ones will never be forgotten, and your assistance will also always remain a memory. Information and some of these memories can be found at www.firehero.org

If you are interested in learning more about the CT Statewide Honor Guard, or the various services we provide, please find us at www.CTHG.org If you have questions or would like to join us, please contact us via the link on our page.

In Brotherhood and Honor,
Melissa Roming
Deputy Commander
CT Statewide Honor Guard

6. Statewide EMS Protocols Update Released

Please be aware that an update to the Connecticut Statewide EMS Protocols has been published and can be found on the Statewide EMS Protocols page of the OEMS website. We have also created a companion summary document of the revision changes, which you will also find on there. This update represents the ongoing work across the spectrum of medical oversight from the EMS sponsor hospitals, the regional Medical Advisory Committees, the Connecticut EMS Medical Advisory Committee, and the Department of Public Health. As with the first version, implementation for each EMS organization is under the director of the EMS sponsor hospital.
