2. DESPP / DEMHS Winter Storm Update

DESPP / DEMHS Winter Storm Update

The National Weather Service has issued Winter Storm Warnings for the entire state beginning at midnight tonight. The following forecast is based on a blend of the GFS and NAM models:

Tonight: Light snow developing from south to north between 2:00 - 4:00 AM. The snow is forecast to become moderate between 3:00 – 5:00 AM. Low temperatures are forecast to be near 30 F with north winds gusting to 25 MPH inland and 35 MPH along the coast at times by daybreak.

Tuesday Morning: Moderate snow is expected in Western CT, moderate to occasionally heavy snow is expected in Central CT and heavy snow is expected in Eastern CT during the morning rush hour. The impact on the morning rush hour is expected to range from minor in western CT, moderate in central CT and moderate to major in eastern CT. Roads in eastern CT are likely to have several inches of snow cover. Roads in the Hartford / New Haven areas will likely have a snow cover and slush combination. Roads in western CT are forecast to have a lighter coating snow and slush. The snow is forecast to continue thru the morning (lighter in Western CT and heavier in Eastern CT). Temperatures are forecast to rise into the low 30's with North winds gusting to 35 MPH inland and 45 MPH along the coast at times.

Tuesday Afternoon: The snow intensity is forecast to lighten up by early afternoon and end from southwest to northeast between 3:00 – 7:00 PM. The impact on the afternoon rush hour is expected to range from minor in western and central CT to moderate in eastern CT. Roads in eastern CT are likely to have several inches of remaining snow on the shoulders, ramps and secondary roads. Roads in the Hartford / New Haven areas will likely have been plowed and have a few inches of a snow and slush combination. Roads in western CT are forecast to have been plowed and have a light coating of snow and slush on the shoulders and ramps.

The Department of Emergency Services and Public Protection, Division of Emergency Management and Homeland Security will continue to closely monitor this storm.

3. CFA April Seminar – Date Change – Now April 3, 2018

Due to a scheduling conflict the April Seminar Modern Fire Attack – will now be on April 3, 2018
Chief Peter Van Dorpe

http://www.ct.gov/cfpc/cwp/view.asp?Q=589180&A=833

Course Description: Lightweight energy efficient construction, modern fuels, firefighter encapsulation and manpower reductions have combined to make today's residential firefight a dramatically new challenge for even the most experienced firefighter. This workshop brings together cutting edge research and best practices to help firefighters develop strategies and tactics for mounting interior fire attacks in modern residential construction. It will assist participants in developing best practices for mounting an intelligent fire attack within these structures, particularly in attics and basements, and whenever they encounter ventilation limited or post flashover conditions. This workshop will cover the following objectives:
• Introduce the scope and magnitude of the problem
• Review the most recent UL/NIST research available
• Present curriculum on strategies and tactics for the modern fire ground.

Instructor Bio:
Chief Van Dorpe recently retired as Director of the Chicago Fire Department's Training

Division after a 33 year career with the CFD. He holds a Bachelor's degree in Fire Science Management from Southern Illinois University. He has recently participated as a Subject Matter Expert for UL's research on "Structural Stability of Engineered Lumber In Fire Conditions", the National Institute of Standards and Technology's, "Evaluating Firefighting Tactics Under Wind Driven Conditions", the IAFF/NIST "Firefighter Safety and Deployment Study" in high rise buildings. Chief Van Dorpe is the 2016 recipient of the Fire Engineering/ISFSI George D. Post Instructor of the Year award.

Course # 17550
$65.00 includes lunch

4. CT FireHub - Fire/EMS Training Website

A new Fire/EMS training website is being launched in CT. CT FireHub combines all of the state-wide Fire/EMS training courses onto a single website. The goal is to make it much easier to find training courses by combining information from many departments, schools, companies, the CFPC Listserv and annual training calendar.
CT FireHub was created by CT firefighters, is 100% free to view/list courses, and has no ads.

Anyone can go onto the website to look for courses. You can also create a free account to sign-up for alerts. Alerts allow you to select what courses you're looking for and the website will email you automatically when one of those courses gets added (no more checking back every day to see what courses have been added).

If you have any questions or would like to submit a course, send an email to ctfirehub@gmail.com. Please do not submit courses unless you are a course organizer or know the course is open to the pubic - as some courses are department/region specific.
The website is: https://www.ctfirehub.com/courses
