2. Traffic Incident Response Week

Every minute of every day emergency responders across the country work tirelessly to help save lives at the scene of traffic incidents. Every year hundreds of emergency responders representing fire, law enforcement, emergency medical services, towing and transportation agencies are struck and either injured or killed while responding. This type of secondary crash intensifies the impact to communities, individuals and the economy. We read about the tragedies causes by distracted driving almost every day and the emergency response community has the most to lose.

Help raise awareness about the dangers emergency responders face at traffic incidents this November 13th -19th. Informational and training resources are available at: http://timnetwork.org/traffic-incident-response-awareness-week/

www.25tosurvive.eventbrite.com

More firefighters are seriously injured and killed while operating at residential building fires than at any other building type we encounter. This presentation addresses 25 critical firefighting issues common to the residential dwelling, many repeatedly noted in “near miss reports” and National Institute Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) Line of Duty Death (LODD) reports. These grim realizations require all personnel need to know sound strategies and tactics and how to execute them in order to fight these fires successfully.
