Re: Docket No. 350 - Application of Cellco Partnership d/b/a Verizon Wireless for a Certificate of Environmental Compatibility and Public Need for the Construction, Maintenance and Operation of a Wireless Telecommunications Facility off Route 198 in Woodstock, Connecticut

Dear Mr. Phelps:

As indicated in its recent Siting Council Application for a tower site in Woodstock, Connecticut, Cellco Partnership d/b/a Verizon Wireless indicated that it was awaiting a final determination from the Connecticut State Historic Preservation Officer ("SHPO") regarding this cell site. We have since received the SHPO's response and have enclosed for the record twenty-five (25) copies of the SHPO's finding that the proposed facility will have "no effect" on Connecticut's cultural heritage.

Please contact me if you have any questions.

Dear Ms. Mancuso:

The State Historic Preservation Office has reviewed the reconnaissance survey prepared by Heritage Consultants LLC concerning the above-named project. In the opinion of the State Historic Preservation Office, the archival and archaeological methodologies employed by Heritage Consultants LLC are consistent with our Environmental Review Primer for Connecticut's Archaeological Resources.

The State Historic Preservation Office concurs with Heritage Consultants LLC that no further archaeological investigations appear warranted with respect to the proposed undertaking. This office believes that the proposed undertaking will have no effect upon Connecticut's cultural heritage.

The State Historic Preservation Office appreciates the cooperation of all interested parties concerning the professional management of Connecticut's archaeological resources.

This comment updates and supersedes all previous correspondence regarding the proposed project. For further information please contact Dr. David A. Poirier, Staff Archaeologist.

Sincerely,

Karen Senich
Deputy State Historic Preservation Officer
