

Equal Employment Opportunity & Affirmative Action in Connecticut's Smaller State Agencies

What We Do

In the Equal Employment Opportunity Unit, we are responsible for ensuring that all clients and employees are guaranteed rights and protection without regard to: race; color; religious creed; age; sex; pregnancy; sexual orientation; gender identity or expression; marital status; national origin; ancestry; intellectual disability; genetic information; learning disability; physical disability (including, but not limited to, blindness); mental disability (past/present history thereof); military or veteran status; or criminal record in state employment, unless the provisions of §46a-80(b) or 46a-81(b) of the Connecticut General Statutes are controlling; unless there is a bona fide occupational qualification excluding persons in one of the above protected classes. We are also responsible for investigating all employee allegations of discrimination including sexual harassment; overseeing the Americans with Disabilities Act, and providing employees with information regarding upward mobility and career counseling.

DAS EEO develops and implements the agencies' Affirmative Action Plans, policies, reports, programs and procedures.

Who May File a Complaint?

All complaints regarding alleged employment discrimination should be filed with the agency's Equal Employment Opportunities Specialists. Complaints should be submitted within 30 calendar days of the alleged discriminatory act, giving rise to the complaint. All complaints can be in writing and/or verbal. Time frames will not exceed 90 days for filing, processing and resolution of all alleged employment discrimination complaints. The EEOS will act in an effort to mediate or conciliate complaints. Information concerning complaints will be kept confidential, except where disclosure is necessary or required by law.

After the investigation of the complaint, if the EEOS concludes that no act of discrimination occurred, she/he will inform both the complainant and the respondent of the findings. However, if after the investigation, the EEOS finds reason to believe that the rights of the complainant have been violated, she/he will meet with the respondent to conciliate the matter in order to bring about a proper remedy. Employees are advised of legal options to file employment discrimination complaints with the Connecticut Commission on Human Rights and Opportunities, United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, United States Department of Labor, Wage and Hour Division, and any other agencies, state, federal or local, that enforce laws concerning discrimination in employment.
