2. Does an agency need to submit each individual request to DAS and OLR before approving telework or a change to the employee’s work schedule?

No. In deciding whether to grant a temporary, situational approval of telework or a change in the work schedule, the agency has the discretion to make decisions on the basis of its operational needs and existing resources (including IT resources) without getting preapproval from DAS and OLR provided the agency follows the guidelines set forth in this document.

3. What documentation does the agency require in order to consider a temporary change to an employee’s work schedule or telework in order to address a COVID-19 related situation?

In this temporary emergency situation formal telework applications are not necessary; however, the request must include the employee name(s), title, bargaining unit, employee’s IT resources, proposed schedule, a brief statement of duties to be performed and factors by which the agency can verify that the employee is performing the required duties.

A declaration page from their homeowners insurance does not need to be immediately provided and can be submitted at a later date.

In this temporary emergency situation, pre-approval IT Security review by BEST is not required if the employee is using one of the following options:

- State provided laptop and VPN,
Agencies shall retain all documentation provided by the employees.

Agencies shall create an Excel spreadsheet of all employees who have been approved for temporary, situational telework or changes in the work schedule. The agency spreadsheet must include the department code, employee(s) name, employee id, job code, title, bargaining unit and for employees whose schedules are modified, the current schedule and revised schedule. This spreadsheet must be submitted to DAS on a weekly basis.

4. What factors should be considered in order to approve a change to an employee’s work schedule or telework?

Agencies need to consider their overall operational needs, including the level of on-site staffing needed to provide their services and programs, as well as their existing resources, including IT resources, when considering such requests. Agencies should continue to consider the factors set forth in the Interim Telework Guidelines/General Letter 32 when assessing agency operational needs.

In this temporary emergency situation, the following exceptions to the Interim Telework Guidelines/General Letter 32 are allowed:

- Authorize employees to telecommute even if they do not have a previously approved telecommuting plan. (NOTE: Telework is not appropriate for level 1 employees except in extraordinary circumstances.)
- Authorize employees to telecommute even if they are not in a job classification listed in Appendix A of the Interim Telework Guidelines, however, under no circumstances can an employee in a hazardous duty job be allowed to telework.
  - Non-hazardous duty managers, supervisors, confidential employees and appointed officials are permitted to telework pursuant to Item No. 2719-E.
- Allow employees to telecommute for 50% or more of their scheduled workweek.
- Allow employees to telecommute because they need to be home for childcare or eldercare reasons.
- Authorize modifications to employees’ work schedules in order to reduce the total number of employees in the workplace at any given time. (NOTE: Flexible scheduling is not appropriate for level 1 employees except in extraordinary circumstances).
- Consider allowing employees in a working test period to telecommute as long as performance can be assessed with measurable outcomes. Agencies may need to consider an extension of a working test period if an employee in their working test period is approved to telework.

5. Do we require an employee to self-monitor at home if they live in or travel from a state or country that has not been designated as a Level 3 by the CDC?

No. According to the CDC guidance issued on March 12, 2020, individuals returning from a Level 3 country should self-monitor at home for 14 days from the date they left the country. Individuals who are returning from Level 2 countries are no longer directed to self-monitor at home for 14 days.

6. Can an employee be approved for VSRP in lieu of taking COVID-19 leave (paid or unpaid)?

No

7. If an employee cannot provide a medical certification, what alternative documentation should the employee provide?

If an employee cannot provide medical certification, the employee shall provide a written explanation to their agency Human Resources professional describing their symptoms, the directions they have received from medical providers or government officials (if any), and any other supporting documentation they may possess.
