

Marcia Marien has been the finance director/controller for the Town of Brookfield since 2018. Before that, she was an audit partner at a regional CPA firm where she specialized in government and not-for-profit auditing, accounting and advising for 35 years. Her role included oversight of many financial and single audits.

Marcia is a member of the State Board of Accountancy. She served a three-year term on the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants' (AICPA) Auditing Standards Board and also served as a Connecticut representative on their Governing Council. She has been active with the Connecticut Society of Certified Public Accountants (CSCPA) in their Connecticut Fiscal Crisis Initiative and on the Governmental Accounting and Auditing Committee. She previously served as the CSCPA President, Treasurer, Board Member, and Advisory Council Member. She served on the Accounting Advisory Council for the University of Connecticut where she received her degree in Accounting many years before.

Marcia, originally from Southeastern Connecticut, currently lives in Middletown.
