

How to Use These Interpretive Guidelines

IMPORTANT NOTE: Please click on the QSR Interpretive Guideline Updates Center link to ensure you are aware of the most up to date revisions or changes to these QSR Interpretive guidelines.

- Each indicator listed begins with the indicator reference code and number. For example: CI1 (Consumer Interview Indicator #1). Immediately after the indicator reference code and number is the actual indicator language, in black type:

For example

CI 1

Are you happy with where you live?

- Listed below the indicator, in red type, is the interpretive guideline.

For example

CI 1

Are you happy with where you live?

The intent of this indicator is to determine the person's level of satisfaction with his or her life experience in the home. Tell me about your home. How long have you lived here? What are the things you like about living here? What things do you not like? If you're not happy here, what would make you happy? If you don't like where you live, what don't you like about it? When interviewing, an individual may be reluctant to speak negatively about others (e.g., people living with them at home, staff, family members) or their life circumstances.