

DRAFT, December 2022

The background of the cover page is a collage of four images related to soil erosion and sediment control. The top-left image shows a close-up of a rocky, eroded soil surface. The middle-left image shows a cross-section of a soil bank with deep, vertical erosion rills. The bottom-left image shows a wide view of a sandy, eroded soil surface with sparse green grass. The bottom-right image shows a close-up of a sandy, eroded soil surface with sparse green grass.

This update was made possible through funding provided by the Long Island Sound Study. These updates were prioritized, developed and reviewed under the guidance of the Connecticut Council on Soil and Water Conservation and the collaborative known as the Stormwater Manuals Update Workgroup. Fuss and O’Neill was contracted and provided the technical revisions. Our gratitude for all the time, expertise and hard work goes out to each of the collaborating authors and editors noted below.
