A PROUD PATH TO RECOVERY

The PROUD program (Parents Recovering from Opioid Use Disorders) is here to offer support and family-centered treatment to pregnant women and mothers of infants or young children, in all stages of substance use recovery. With flexible service options, mothers can get the help they need in their community. Some features of the program are:

- PROUD program staff use a holistic model that includes clinical, case management, and peer-based approaches to recovery.
- Program services are flexible, with in-home and telehealth treatment options.
- Treatment and support is personalized for every mother and her family.
- PROUD program staff will create Family Care Plans with expectant mothers.

HOPE AND HEALING WITH PROUD

The PROUD program (Parents Recovering from Opioid Use Disorders) aims to support pregnant and parenting women in achieving their recovery goals. We know addiction is complicated. For many women, this disease is rooted in painful childhood and adult traumas. Being pregnant or parenting can feel so overwhelming when struggling with addiction. There is hope. There is healing. Treatment, support, and care are available for mom, her baby and household members with PROUD.
