2020 Census Group Quarters Definitions and Code List

Group Quarters:

A group quarters is a place where people live or stay in a group living arrangement that is owned or managed by an entity or organization providing housing and/or services for the residents. These services may include custodial or medical care as well as other types of assistance, and residency is commonly restricted to those receiving these services. This is not a typical household-type living arrangement. People living in group quarters are usually not related to each other. Group quarters include such places as college residence halls, residential treatment centers, skilled-nursing facilities, group homes, military barracks, correctional facilities, and workers' dormitories.

Institutional Group Quarters:

Facilities that house those who are primarily ineligible, unable, or unlikely to participate in the labor force while residents.

CORRECTIONAL FACILITIES FOR ADULTS

Tune Code, 101	Federal Detention Centers:
Type Code: 101
	Stand alone, generally multilevel, federally operated correctional facilities that provide short-term confinement or custody of adults pending adjudication or sentencing. These facilities may hold pretrial detainees, holdovers, sentenced offenders, and Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) inmates, formerly called Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) inmates.
	These facilities include: Metropolitan Correctional Centers (MCCs), Metropolitan Detention Centers (MDCs), Federal Detention Centers (FDCs), Bureau of Indian Affairs Detention Centers, ICE Service Processing Centers, and ICE contract detention facilities.
Type Code: 102 Federal Prisons	Federal and State Prisons:
	Adult correctional facilities where people convicted of crimes
Type Code: 103 State Prisons	serve their sentences. Common names include: prison, penitentiary, correctional institution, federal or state correctional facility, and conservation camp. The prisons are classified by two types of control: (1) "federal" (operated by or for the Bureau of Prisons of the Department of Justice) and (2)
	"state." Residents who are forensic patients or criminally insane are classified on the basis of where they resided at the time of enumeration. Patients in hospitals (units, wings, or floors) operated by or for federal or state correctional authorities are counted in the prison population. Other forensic patients will be enumerated in psychiatric hospital units and floors for long-term non acute patients. This category may include privately operated correctional facilities.
Type Code: 104	Local Jails and Other Municipal Confinement Facilities:
	Correctional facilities operated by or for counties, cities,
	and American Indian and Alaska Native tribal governments.
	These facilities hold adults detained pending adjudication and/or people committed after adjudication. This category also includes people committed after adjudication. This category also includes work farms and camps used to hold people awaiting trial or serving time on relatively short sentences. Residents who are forensic patients or criminally insane are classified on the basis of where they resided at the time of enumeration. Patients in hospitals (units, wings, or floors) operated by or for local correctional authorities are counted in the jail population. Other forensic patients will be enumerated in psychiatric hospital units and floors for long-term non acute patients. This category may include privately operated correctional facilities.

Type Code: 105	Correctional Residential Facilities:
Type Coue. 103	These are community-based facilities operated for correctional purposes. The facility residents may be allowed extensive contact with the community, such as for employment or attending school, but are obligated to occupy the premises at night.
	Examples are halfway houses, restitution centers, and
T. C. I. 100	prerelease, work release, and study centers.
Type Code: 106	Military Disciplinary Barracks and Jails:

	Includes facilities such as dormitories, bunkhouses, and similar types of group living arrangements for agricultural and non-agricultural workers. This category also includes facilities that provide a full-time, year-round residential program offering a vocational training and employment program that helps young people 16-to-24 years old learn a trade, earn a high school diploma or GED and get help finding a job.
	Examples are group living quarters at migratory farmworker camps, construction workers' camps, Job Corps centers and vocational training facilities.
Type Code: 903	Living Quarters for Victims of Natural Disasters: These are temporarily group living arrangements established as a result of natural disasters.
Type Code: 904	Religious Group Quarters and Domestic Violence Shelters Religious group quarters are living quarters owned or separated by religious organizations that are intended to house their members in a group living situation. This category includes such places as convents, monasteries, and abbeys. Living quarters for students living or staying in seminaries are classified as college student housing, not religious group quarters. Domestic violence shelters include community-based homes, shelters or crisis centers that provide housing for people who have sought shelter from household violence and who may have been physically abused.
