

Introducing OCC's Economist John R. Viglione

John R. Viglione joined the Office of Consumer Counsel ("OCC") in 2015 as an Economist, providing analytical and Macroeconomic support to the staff. Before joining OCC, John was a coordinator for the Step Up program with the Northwest Regional Workforce Investment Board. While at the Workforce Investment Board, John worked with local businesses to foster economic and employment growth in the northwest region of Connecticut. John is a graduate of Salve Regina University and has a Bachelor of Science degree in Economics.