CT TRB Election Notice

TRB Election Mailings

You are receiving this email as an active member of the Teachers' Retirement Board (TRB) who is eligible to vote in the upcoming election for two retired teacher board seats.

The TRB election will begin January 23, 2023, through February 24, 2023. Voting materials and instructions for both active and retired members will be provided by the election vendor, YesElections.

Active members will receive electronic ballots to their email address on file. Voting materials will be mailed to those members with no email on file.

The voting materials will include voting instructions and provide members the opportunity to vote electronically through the secure YesElections website or return the paper ballot in the business reply envelope post marked by February 24, 2023.

Please do not contact the TRB for any election related matters. Staff is unable to assist. All questions should be directed to YesElections. (See voting materials for YesElections contact information.)

Please visit the website for additional information.

Effective January 19, 2023, Joseph Giaquinto Jr. has withdrawn from the election. Please disregard this candidate in your voting process as ballots have been printed. Any votes for this candidate will be omitted from election results.

Regards,
CT Teachers' Retirement Board
