2:15 - 2:40	Refreshments and move to next session
	SESSION 4	SESSION 5	SESSION 6
2:40 - 3:55	Advanced Invasive Plant Management	The Nursery Industry and Non-invasive Alternatives	Early Detection and Invasive Plant Risk Assessment

Breakout Sessions Descriptions:

Full list of speakers and additional details available online

Session 1: Join invasive plant management experts in a panel discussion for homeowners/beginners on the ABC's of controlling invaders. Learn the basics of non-chemical options, the right tools to use, and the proper time for control. Safety and proper use of herbicides, and selecting the best product for problematic invasives will also be covered. Come ready with your questions. (Jeff Ward, Mike Nadeau, Chris Polatin)

Session 2: Learn about innovative technologies for reporting and understanding the spread of invasives, including the use of drones to map invasive populations, submitting invasive species occurrence data via mobile apps or EDDMapS, and GIS story mapping. (Nancy Marek, Katie Blake, Mike Van Clef)

Session 3: Native plants "from soup to nuts" – understanding on-site issues, working with existing site values to design and find species for specific goals – allowing for natural change. (Peter Picone, Lisa Turoczi)

Session 4: Join invasive plant management experts in a discussion of the costs/benefits of various methods for controlling invasives on large scale properties. Learn from the professionals which non-chemical and chemical options have worked for them and the proper time for control. This session will be geared toward a professional/advanced audience. (Dave Gumbart, Chris Polatin)

Session 5: Panel discussion on the role of nurseries and the nursery industry in the production of non-invasive plant alternatives. Plant producers from CT, other New England states, and NY will discuss sources of plants and seeds, restoration, and customer base. (Darryl Newman, Mark Brand, Polly Weigand, Dave Anderson)

Session 6: This session will cover Risk Assessment and Early Detection of invasive plants in CT and how we evaluate plants that are newly introduced or threaten our state borders. (Henry Frye, Bryan Connolly)
