5. Preventing Arson at Houses of Worship

Each year for Arson Awareness Week (AAW), the U.S. Fire Administration gathers and shares information to raise awareness of arson or youth firesetting and provide individuals with strategies to combat these problems in their community.

The burning of a house of worship is a stressful event; it not only devastates the affected congregation, but wounds the entire community. Whether the motivation behind the arson is hate or reckless vandalism, a congregation views it as an attack on their beliefs and values.

Arson robs congregations of their valuable assets, lives and property. Arson destroys more than the buildings used as houses of worship; it can devastate a community, resulting in the decline of the neighborhood through increased insurance premiums, loss of business revenue, and a decrease in property values.

Houses of worship are particularly vulnerable to fire damage because they're often unoccupied for long periods of time, and in many cases, in rural areas. Rural properties will generally sustain more severe damage – even with an accidental fire – since discovery and response time may be delayed.

This year's materials:

- Help community leaders increase awareness about how to prevent arson at houses of worship.
- Spotlight recent arson fires at houses of worship in United States.

Extreme Leadership am session # 17344
Dealing with Negativity pm session # 17346

Extreme Leadership: During this program we start with learning about your own strengths and weaknesses. We also learn about what really scares you. Leadership starts from within. By doing so we will show you how to become a better leader in life and in the fire service.

This program covers all three phases of great leadership.

1. Intellectual Intelligence,
2. Emotional Intelligence and
3. Personality Based Human Dynamics.

Most leadership programs tell you how to be a better leader with one phase but we show the attendee how to be a better leader with all three. You will learn the 4 different personalities in the firehouse.

Dealing with Negativity: We will teach you how to read, map and identify the four different personalities in your organization. Learn what makes them engage, be motivated or tick. Have you ever asked yourself “What the hell was that guy thinking?” If you have, do you really know who you're leading? Learn how to provide behavioral modification for leading, coaching and even during disciplinary actions.

Seminar Series presentations are considered a supplement to firefighter and Fire Officer classes offered by the Connecticut Fire Academy. Classes provided by the Connecticut Fire Academy comply with NFPA standards and best practices of the fire service. Seminar Series are also based on these standards and practices but can and often do include opinions of the subject matter experts that are delivering the presentation. Attending any number of the Seminar Series will allow the student to, not only add to their existing training; but also encourage the student to choose from the opinions of different speakers to develop their own style of strategies and tactics at emergency scenes, as well as inspire them to acquire more knowledge on fire service subjects.
