

The CHRO investigates Disability Discrimination Complaints in Housing, Employment and Places of Public Accommodations

What Types of Discrimination do People with Mental Health Conditions Face in Housing?

- Refusal to rent
- Refusal to allow modifications to accommodate a disability
- Eviction
- Sexual Harassment
- Refusal to sell
- Refusal to make reasonable changes to rules and policies (i.e. allowing an emotional support dog in an apartment with a no pet policy)
- Unfair terms and conditions

Discrimination on other protected classes

Connecticut law prohibits discrimination on the following bases:

- Age*
- Alienage*
- Ancestry*
- Breastfeeding*
- Color*
- Criminal Record (state employment and licensing only)*
- Familial Status, responsibilities, or planning*
- Gender Identity or Expression*
- Genetic Information (employment)*
- Guide Dog (access)*
- Intellectual disability*
- Lawful source of income (housing and public accommodations)*
- Learning disability*
- Marital Status*
- Mental Disability*
- National Origin*
- Physical disability*
- Race*
- Religious Creed/ Creed*
- Retaliation*
- Sex, including pregnancy*
- Sexual orientation*
- Veterans*