Site Search Summary

As part of any application to the State Siting Council, the applicant is required to describe "the narrowing process by which other possible sites were considered and eliminated." This Section sets forth the general site search process conducted by Crown, identification of the target site search area and the specific alternative locations considered for development of the proposed Facility.

As a tower infrastructure provider, Crown bases its decision to develop tower sites on its knowledge and understanding of existing weaknesses in the systems of the several wireless carriers operating in any given area and/or through consultation with individual carriers. A target site search area is then identified central to the area in which coverage and/or capacity deficiencies have been identified. The site search area generally encompasses the geographical areas where the installation of a wireless site would, based on carrier radio frequency engineering and system design standards, be likely to address the identified problems in wireless services. Crown's goal is to locate a site or sites in the site search area that will provide for an orderly integration into the existing wireless networks of multiple carriers.

Crown is sensitive to State and local desires to minimize the construction of new towers. Accordingly, Crown will generally not pursue site searches in areas with existing structures known to be acceptable to the wireless industry or where alternatives sites are already identified. In Connecticut, this includes sites listed on the State Siting Council's database and inventory of existing telecommunications facilities. Thus, once Crown makes the decision to pursue siting in a specific site search area, it is generally accepted that a new tower structure will be required to meet the coverage and/or capacity needs of the wireless carrier industry.

In conducting its site searches, Crown determines whether industrial or commercial areas or areas which have appropriate environmental and land use characteristics are present and gives those locations priority. Potential locations are then studied by radio frequency engineers to determine whether the tower site locations will meet the technical requirements for the area. The list of potential locations is further refined based on the willingness of property owners to make their property available for construction of a tower site. Crown's own analysis of potential environmental effects and benefits may further narrow the alternatives in a given site search area. The weight afforded to relevant factors by Crown may vary depending on the nature of the area and the availability of potential sites.

In the Madison site search area, there are no existing towers, transmission line structures or other suitable structures for use as wireless sites. While there are towers in the general vicinity (Madison Volunteer Fire Department; Former Town Police Department Headquarters; CL&P), they are too far away to provide coverage to the areas of Route 79 where service is deficient. Copies of the Siting Council's Telecomunications Databases as updated through May of 2008 for sites in Madison and neighboring Guilford are attached. Thus, as Crown began to investigate properties in the target area, it was revealed that the predominant land uses in the target area are single-family residential, open space or part of Cockoponsett State Park (see for example the Madison Comprehensive Plan of Development, current and future land use maps included in the Bulk Filing). Crown thereafter identified three single family residential lots in the target area and in late October of 2006, Crown entered into a lease for property at 99 Summer Hill Road for purposes of constructing a tower facility.

In early 2007, Crown's consultants contacted the Town of Madison to discuss commencing formal consultation for the Summer Hill Site as required by Section 16-50*l* of the Connecticut General Statutes and prior to filing an application with the State Siting Council. During the course of these discussions with the Town, Crown learned that the Town was considering making certain Town owned land available for tower siting to meet the needs of wireless carriers and the community. The Town indicated that the Town's Bulky Waste Site, to the south of Crown's identified Summer Hill Site, might be made available for Facility siting. Crown worked collaboratively with Town officials on this potential tower siting alternative and directed its radiofrequency engineers to study the potential Town alternative. At that time, Crown determined that, while not as proficient in providing coverage, the Town's Bulky Waste Site would be an acceptable alternative to the 99 Summer Hill Road site.

In the spring of 2007, the Town released a request for proposals which included the Town Bulky Waste Site as a potential tower location (the "RFP"). Crown responded to the RFP along with other companies and the topic was discussed at several Board of Selectman meetings and a public hearing. Thereafter, the Town sent Crown a letter of interest with respect to its Bulky Waste Site. Since that time, Crown has negotiated a lease with municipal officials, coordinated site visits and conducted a significant amount of due diligence with respect to the Town Bulky Waste Site which Crown believes is a superior tower site for environmental reasons. The Town subsequently entered into a lease with Crown which is the sole site for Council consideration for the reasons more fully set forth in this Application.
