Subject: Docket No. 395, East Haddam
Importance: Low

The DEP has one observation concerning the location of the Devil's Hopyard North facility on the grounds of the East Haddam Gun Club. If the tower, equipment compound or access road will be sited in an area that might contain a significant amount of spent ammunition, for example a former practice range or other area of concentrated shooting, the potential presence of lead contamination in the soil should be considered in the Development & Management Plan. If lead is a concern, the potential to mobilize contamination should be taken into account in designing any stormwater management system and appropriate handling of soils during construction should be included in the construction specifications.
