Attorney Hoffman,

While I appreciate your assessment that there is not much to review and hear your assumption that al involved would have time to prepare, I'm going to respectfully disagree. Time is a valuable commodity in my home, as I am a caretaker for my husband, who is a veteran with early cognitive decline. This requires me to plan in advance to devote time to such matters. Since this project will have an impact on the Strawberry Hills community for 20 plus years, I would be remiss if I didn't exercise due diligence and review the documents thoroughly before attending the interrogatory session. The Parties and Intervenors were offered the opportunity to postpone by Ms. Bachman, and I gratefully accepted.

It's unfortunate that an error was made, but the error was not mine.

Respectfully,

Lisa Bress

Ms. Bress,

I appreciate your concern, but if you look at the materials that were sent, they consist of editorial revisions to a 4 page spill plan to properly mention fueling where no substantive changes were made; a copy of a 2 page resume of a witness that has already testified; a single page revised site plan; 3 photo simulations and my cover letter. That's seven pages of text to review, plus the site plan and the photo simulations.

I would respectfully ask that you reconsider your request.

Thank you.

Thank you Attorney Hoffman,

Unfortunately, I can't possibly review these documents this morning in time to be prepared for the Interrogatory session this afternoon. I've requested a delay so all parties will have an opportunity to review them.

Thank you,

Lisa Bress
