

A diagram showing a road layout. A circular north arrow is at the top left. Below it, a horizontal line represents a road. The line starts at a point labeled '0', goes right to a point labeled '75', then turns left (up) for a short distance, then turns right (down) to a point labeled '150', and finally continues right to a point labeled '300 Feet'.