Question:

In concept, explain how these Woodbridge route deviations differ from the route deviation for the Traditions Golf Club.

Response:

The route deviation in Woodbridge is a result of settlement negotiations to resolve an appeal of the CSC Decision in Docket No. 272. The route deviation for the Traditions Golf Club as provided in the application in Docket No. 272, was a response to a business entity that represented it would have gone out of business if the transmission facility were built on the existing right-of-way.

Question:

Is it necessary for CL&P to provide notice to abutting landowners adjacent to the proposed Jewish Community Center and B'Nai Jacob route deviations? If yes, provide documentation. If not, provide a brief on whether or not notice is required in these circumstances.

Response:

No personal notice to abutters of the properties where route variations are proposed by the Segment 2b Development and Management ("D&M") Plan is required. These route variations are the subject of a Council proceeding pursuant to section 4-181a(b) of the General Statutes, in which the Council will decide whether to modify its original decision to approve the variations. The specific notice requirements for such a proceeding are set forth in § 4-181a(b) as follows:

The party or parties who were the subject of the original final decision, or their successors, if known, and intervenors in the original contested case, shall be notified of the proceeding and shall be given the opportunity to participate in the proceeding. Id.

The Council has complied with this provision by giving notice of the hearing to the entire Docket 272 Service List. No further notice of any kind is required for the Council to revise its decision pursuant to Conn. Gen. Stats. §4-181a(b).

Moreover, the Council's governing legislation does not require, in any case, personal notice to the abutters of land where electric transmission lines are proposed to be constructed. That legislation requires personal notice to abutters in the case of applications for electric generating stations, electric substations, community antenna television towers, and telecommunication towers (§§ 16-50(b); 16-50i(3)–(6)). No such personal notice to abutters is required for electric or fuel transmission lines. Id.
