ESF 15 - EXTERNAL AFFAIRS SOCIAL LISTENING REPORT

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 27, 2021

SUMMARY

- There are reports of increased skepticism regarding the vaccine among Latinx communities. There is a lack of trust in the guidance and policies being shared by the federal government and some state and local officials. This is causing some to feel more hesitant about receiving the vaccine.
- Many individuals who have received the first round of the vaccine are growing more concerned that supplies will run out before they can receive their second dose, or that they will not be able to obtain appointments for their second dose.
- There is a small amount of local news coverage regarding FEMA funeral assistance. Members of the National Funeral Directors Association report they are anxiously awaiting additional guidance from FEMA about how the program will be implemented. There has also been steady coverage in local media regarding the recent allocation of funds to bolster state vaccine administration capacity.
- There is some debate and disagreement among state lawmakers regarding what populations should be prioritized for the vaccine.
- This afternoon, traditional media has focused on the White House COVID-19 Response Team's press brief. Popular topics covered in the brief included overall action plans, infection risk following detection of new virus strains within U.S. borders, and ongoing concerns about vaccine supplies and accessibility. Today's newspaper front-page headlines covered new vaccination sites, concerns regarding new strains of the virus, and mixed public reaction to the pace of vaccine distribution and administration.

PUBLIC PERCEPTION/SENTIMENT

- Reports of inequitable vaccine distribution is becoming an increasingly hot topic among Latinx communities. (example 1, example 2)
 - Some members of these communities claim there is hesitation to get vaccinated due to a lack of official information available in Spanish and a large circulation of myths/rumors causing an overall lack of trust towards government messaging regarding the vaccine.

This report is for official use only. Intended recipients are emergency management officials requiring information about the immediate impact and needs associated with the event.

FEMA

- Many feel reports of inequitable vaccine are intended to be polarizing, claiming that the states being analyzed in the news reports are predominantly white anyways.
- Debate over double masking has grown significantly due to increased coverage from local news outlets. (example 1, example 2) There continue to be a large number of people who say they do not plan to wear multiple masks. These individuals often cite concern for breathing or a lack of trust in federal guidance.
- The anti-vaccine sentiment remains strong on social media. Content encouraging people to get vaccines is frequently overwhelmed by comments from accounts sharing false or negative information related to vaccines.
- A number of people are anxious and confused over how to schedule their second doses within the vaccine manufacturers recommended time frames.

RUMORS/MISINFORMATION

- Henry County, Tennessee Sheriff's Office is warning residents of a scam in which callers are requesting personal information and payment to schedule an appointment for COVID-19 vaccination. The public is advised the public not to give personal details nor payment over the phone.
- One Pennsylvania news outlet reports that 'experts' warn not to take pain relievers before getting vaccinated. However, the news article does not specify what kind of experts issued the warning.
- Following news that baseball Hall of Famer Hank Aaron died a few weeks after taking the vaccine, those who are skeptical or against the vaccine have falsely linked his death to the COVID-19 vaccine.

FEMA

- Many news stations and elected officials are sharing the news of FEMA's allocation of funds for vaccine storage and distribution in various states and territories. (example 1, example 2, example 3)
- Elected officials in Virginia are urging the governor and FEMA to establish a mass vaccination site in Northern Virginia.
 - Officials are also are pushing for streamlining the process and developing a more transparent and equitable system for distribution.
- A few people are relieved and grateful to FEMA staff who are helping at state vaccination sites. (example 1, example 2, example 3)
- There is a low volume of local news coverage on the implementation of funeral reimbursements. A spokesperson for the National Funeral Directors Association said they are eagerly awaiting additional guidance from FEMA.

This report is for official use only. Intended recipients are emergency management officials requiring information about the immediate impact and needs associated with the event.

Federal Response

- There is a high volume of discussion about President Biden's press conference yesterday with many people focusing on the desire to have 300 million Americans vaccinated by the end of summer. (example 1, example 2)
 - Some people are questioning if children will be included in the 300 million.
- There continues to be a push from elected officials to speed up vaccine delivery and distribution. Many place blame on the federal government saying it is delaying the process. (example 1, example 2)
- National media outlets report the White House will reopen HealthCare.gov marketplaces, currently operating in 36 states, to give those affected by the pandemic an opportunity to sign-up. (example 1, example 2, example 3)

Vulnerable Populations

- The World Health Organization does not recommended the Moderna COVID-19 vaccine for pregnant women, unless they are at risk of high exposure.
- CDC Director vows to follow the White House's executive order to bring equality to those disproportionately burdened by the pandemic.
 - Responses to her post ask the Director to not to forget disabled people, people of color, high risk and chronically ill people living independently, homeless, immunocompromised, and intellectually disabled among others.

Public Health

- CDC issued more detailed recommendations for COVID-19 vaccine distribution to include veterinary services in Phase 1-b.
- According to CNN, a survey published by the Kaiser Family Foundation of more than 1,500 adults found that 41% want the vaccine and at least 6% have already received at least the first dose.
 - Comments under the post are mixed. Several people shared that they want the vaccine or have already received it, while just as many express adverse feelings about the vaccine.

Transportation

- International airports across the country began to implement new policies yesterday requiring all passengers entering the US to provide proof of a negative COVID-19 test.
 - Reports that the government is considering expanding this policy to domestic travel have been met with mixed emotion. Some are saying it feels unconstitutional others are pleased at the idea of additional precautions being put in place.

Community Mitigation

- CDC Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Report (MMWR) reports NFL use of wearable devices for contact tracing and strict COVID-19 mitigation protocols for high-risk contacts limited the spread of infection.

Private Sector

- Darden Restaurants, the parent company of Olive Garden and Red Lobster, will offer their employees paid time off to get the COVID-19 vaccine.

REGION ONE

Supply Chain

- In New Hampshire, people are experiencing issues scheduling their second shots within the CDC's updated recommended time frame of 4-6 weeks due limited appointments and lack of supply.
 - Some appointments are having to be set as much as almost 8 weeks after the initial dose. The state advises that appointments will be made available when more vaccines are received.

Vaccine Administration

- Starting Wednesday, January 27, in Massachusetts, residents 75 and older may schedule appointments beginning in February for a COVID-19 vaccine for the start of Phase 2.
- Some Stop and Shop locations have been approved to give the Moderna vaccine based on the state's COVID-19 vaccination plan. These locations will begin accepting appointments on February 1.
- In Massachusetts, Eastfield Mall in Springfield is preparing the old Macy's location to serve as a vaccination site. Scheduling started today, January 27 for 500 appointments.

Vulnerable Populations

- In New Hampshire, for the first time in months there are no new outbreaks to report at long term care facilities. The governor attributes this, in part, to the implementation of vaccines.
- In Massachusetts, Boston homeless shelters are encountering a high level of vaccine hesitancy, as high as 50% at one location. Health care providers also have concerns about reaching people without cell phones for their second dose.

Public Health

- Maine CDC reported two new COVID-19 outbreaks at Lisbon Public Works and the Oxford Casino, while investigating 25 cases at Maine Veterans' Home.
- In Massachusetts, the town of Ossipee commissioners (selectmen) temporarily closed their administration building due to a COVID-19 outbreak in their campus-adjointing jail.

This report is for official use only. Intended recipients are emergency management officials requiring information about the immediate impact and needs associated with the event.

FEMA

- The Ossipee commissioners also reversed their decision to mandate masks in the town hall, despite 21 people related to town hall business contracting the virus.

Community Mitigation

- The Appalachian Trail Conservancy have asked hikers to postpone plans to cover the Appalachian Trail, which runs through 14 states from Maine to Georgia, this year due to COVID-19.
 - Hikers usually stay at shelters in close quarters along the trail which don't allow for the CDC's recommended guidelines for social distancing and washing hands often.
 - The suggestion was made because of concern that thousands of travelers entering many small towns along the trail may overwhelm local hospital systems.
- Chicago, Illinois teachers are threatening to defy a Chicago Public School's order to return to classrooms on January 27. The Chicago Teachers Union alleges the school system has failed to put in place agreed upon COVID-19 protocols necessary for in-person learning. Teachers are expected to receive their shots in mid-February.

REGION TWO

Vaccination Administration

- People in the Tri-state area are having trouble getting their second vaccine dose appointment on time, local media reported.
 - In a Twitter poll hosted by the same local media outlet: 49.5% of people who filled it out claimed to have difficulty getting an appointment for their second dose.
- In Hudson County, New Jersey, the county's executive has expressed frustration saying the county has infrastructure ready for mass vaccination but not enough doses. The county's Health Officer informed that to deal with the problem, they are not registering individuals unless they have doses available.
- New Jersey will receive about 130 thousand vaccine doses for each of the next 3 weeks, announced the governor today.
- A New Jersey hospital in Hunterdon County reportedly vaccinated wealthy donors and their relatives in December before vaccine eligibility was expanded in the state.

Vulnerable Populations

- In Long Island, New York, local leaders said that they're facing an "uphill battle" in convincing minorities to get vaccinated. They're launching new efforts to make sure the minorities have equal access to the vaccines.
- In New York City, local media reported that early vaccination data from December showed that white people received about five times as many vaccinations while making up 42% of the population. The report also showed that about 40% of recipients didn't mark down their race or ethnicity.

REGION THREE

This report is for official use only. Intended recipients are emergency management officials requiring information about the immediate impact and needs associated with the event.

Vaccination Administration

- The Governor of Maryland announced the state will open at least six mass vaccination sites by early February.
 - Yesterday, January 26 he also announced that Six Flags America and Baltimore Convention Center will be converted into mass vaccination sites. Six Flags is expected to be converted February 5.
- In Lehigh County, Pennsylvania a drive-thru COVID-19 vaccination clinic opened today. The clinic opened at Dorney Park and they plan to vaccinate individuals 75 and older.
- In Chesterfield County, Virginia unregistered residents showed up at a Chesterfield appointment-only vaccine clinic. The county's official government page posted a message informing residents of the issue and asking them to be patient.

Vulnerable Populations

- The Pennsylvania State Troopers Association is speaking out against the state's decision to include smokers in the high priority category, urging the state to reject the CDC's recommendation.

Community Mitigation

- In Portsmouth, Virginia the health department launched a hot line to assist those without reliable internet. The hot line helps residents navigate the COVID-19 vaccination process. They've had over 2,000 call this week alone.

REGION FOUR

Supply Chain

- Mississippi is expecting to receive around 37,000 doses of COVID-19 vaccine this week from the federal government. According to the state's Department of Health, it is the same allocation the state has received the past few weeks. While the state would like to receive an increase in their allotted vaccines, they share that they are receiving what they expect.

Vaccination Administration

- Local news in North Carolina reports that there is a discrepancy between the reported amount of administered vaccines versus actual state data. The North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services (NCDHHS) reports that it has administered 95% of all first-round doses but data shows hundreds of thousands doses have not been administered.
 - The state Association of Health Directors is critical of NCDHHS' decision to prioritize two mass vaccination events at the expense of local health departments.
 - Health directors are also upset that the rerouting of vaccines from local providers triggered thousands of cancelled appointments, which they feel is slowing down vaccine distribution.

This report is for official use only. Intended recipients are emergency management officials requiring information about the immediate impact and needs associated with the event.

FEMA

- Alabama Department of Public Health announced a new no-reservation, first come, first serve drive-thru site for COVID-19 vaccination clinics in Baldwin County to begin on February 2.
- Alabama State University announced this week that it will serve as a COVID-19 vaccine administration site.

Public Health

- Georgia's public health commissioner expressed to state lawmakers the pandemic is a strain on the Department of Public Health, but there will not be an increase in the their budget plan, published by the Governor's office, to account for COVID-19 expenses.
 - Some officials feel that public health should be more of a priority and that more funding is needed.
- CDC highlights the need for health depts and schools to weigh the benefits of allowing high contact sports against risk for spread of virus after COVID-19 outbreak linked to two wrestling tournaments in Florida.
- A Georgia state representative was removed from Georgia's House chamber for refusing to be tested for COVID-19, which is mandatory. His refusal was due to his frustration that state lawmakers have access to regular testing while many other Americans do not.

REGION FIVE

Supply Chain

- In Wisconsin, a pharmacist charged with intentionally tampering with dozens of vials of COVID-19 vaccine in attempt to spoil them is facing 20 years in prison after pleading guilty.
 - His actions allegedly caused more than 50 people to be vaccinated with improperly stored doses.

Vaccination Administration

- In Indiana, teachers are protesting the change in vaccination priorities to people who are high risk due to age over teachers, despite CDC guidelines to treat teachers and grocery store workers as essential workers.
- The Minnesota Department of Health opened a 24-hour vaccine lottery to choose approximately 11,700 residents who are 65 and older to receive the COVID-19 vaccine.
- The Ohio Funeral Directors Association asked the Governor of Ohio to add funeral directors, embalmers and their staff in a list with group 1B.

Community Mitigation

- Wisconsin Senate has voted to repeal their governor's statewide mask mandate. Both legislative chambers have to pass the resolution, scheduled for a vote on January 28.

REGION SIX

This report is for official use only. Intended recipients are emergency management officials requiring information about the immediate impact and needs associated with the event.

Vaccination Administration

- In Texas, local media reported that some individuals who received their first dose, are seeing conflicting information on how to obtain an appointment for their second dose and are worried about not getting their second dose in time.
- The governor of Texas announced that the state set a new record for COVID-19 vaccinations in a single day with 114,000 shots were administered yesterday (1/26).
- The vaccine registration website from Harris County, Texas, which had technical problems earlier in the week, was fixed and over 49,000 people have registered despite the site crashing a couple times. Many residents have also been receiving busy signals when calling the county's vaccine registration phonenumber.
- New Mexico Governor announced that the state has the 3rd highest rate of COVID-19 vaccine administration in the country.

Vulnerable Populations

- The Texas National Guard teams are scheduled to begin COVID-19 vaccination on Thursday (1/28) in a new State mobile vaccine pilot program that aims to reach and immunize underserved areas like Starr County and others.
- The city of Corpus Christi, Texas, is deploying its firefighters to help vaccinate homebound senior residents.

Public Health

- In Amarillo, Texas, COVID-19 hospitalizations are decreasing. Area health experts believe vaccinations and masking precautions along with a high number of recoveries are contributing to the decrease in positive cases.

Community Mitigation

- An Oklahoma lawmaker filed a bill that would require people to wear a mask in public and face fines if one fails to do so.
- In Oklahoma, students in Rector Johnson Middle School and Broken Bow High School who forget their masks will have to buy one or call their parents. The schools say that giving students masks have depleted their supplies.

REGION SEVEN

Supply Chain

- Missouri Governor Mike Parson plans to divert unused COVID-19 vaccine doses from pharmacies, designated for long-term care facilities, to mass vaccination sites operated by the National Guard to increase the vaccine distribution rate.
 - This action will not prevent CVS and Walgreens from finishing their work providing vaccinations at nursing homes.

Vaccination Administration

This report is for official use only. Intended recipients are emergency management officials requiring information about the immediate impact and needs associated with the event.

FEMA

- Missouri launched a new COVID-19 vaccine dashboard to track administered doses. The site shows the total vaccine shots administered and the number of individuals who have received single or double doses, county and demographic information of recipient.
- University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics (UIHC) will begin their next phase of COVID-19 vaccinations next week to include emergency responders, teachers and people 65 and older.
 - The Governor and UIHC health officials share while vaccine supply is low, they will be able to administer a steady flow of vaccinations and can handle the administration of the vaccines. Officials want residents to remain hopeful.

Staffing

- Iowa lawmakers are considering a bill that will allow dentists to administer the COVID-19 vaccine and flu shots. It would require dentists to take four hours of training and prohibit them from allowing dental hygienists or dental assistants from vaccine administration.
 - Legislatures who disapprove feel that there are enough healthcare personnel to distribute the vaccine and that the real issue is the limited supply.

Vulnerable Populations

- In Kansas, local news reports that on January 26, the first day that residents 80 and up were allowed to get the vaccine in Johnson County, they were waiting in long lines in the cold. This was due to people showing up ahead of their scheduled appointments and healthcare workers in need of their second dose. The county said it won't happen again with more staff on site today.
- Kansas state lawmakers disagree on the state's vaccine administration plan on prioritizing healthcare workers over residents who are 65 and older. Some officials feel the governor's plan makes it harder for older residents to get vaccinated.

REGION EIGHT

Vaccination Administration

- In Sioux Falls, South Dakota law enforcement and health care professionals were able to receive their second COVID-19 vaccine yesterday. Many essential workers expressed gratitude to receive a second dose and were glad to do their part in protecting themselves and others.
- Utah chose the grocery chains Smith's and Walmart to help vaccinate the general public when allowed. This is a switch from CVS and Walgreens, which are currently helping vaccinate long-term care facility staff and residents.

Vulnerable Populations

- In Denver, Colorado state and local leaders asked SCL health to work on a mass vaccination event geared toward communities of color and underserved populations. Their goal is to vaccinate at least 5,000 people on Saturday, February 6th.

This report is for official use only. Intended recipients are emergency management officials requiring information about the immediate impact and needs associated with the event.

Public Health

- The Governor of North Dakota announced this morning that the statewide COVID-19 risk level will be adjusted from moderate to low beginning at 8 a.m. Friday, January 29th.
- A Washington State resident was arrested last week after prosecutors say he used social media to peddle untested, injectable COVID-19 “vaccines” on social media. He sold the “vaccines” on Facebook for $400-$1,000 and now faces misdemeanor federal charges of introducing misbranded drugs into interstate commerce.

REGION NINE

Vaccination Administration

- In California, Santa Clara County health officials are withholding COVID-19 vaccines from Good Samaritan Hospital after it broke vaccination eligibility rules.
 - Los Gatos Union School District teachers were instructed, in an email from their Superintendent, to impersonate health care workers to obtain vaccine appointments, displacing eligible people over 65 and health care workers.
- In California, San Diego County is planning for two new COVID-19 mass vaccination sites in the North and East Counties, and at least five more community sites.
- In California, Riverside Convention Center is preparing to open as a mass vaccination site.

Staffing

- Local news reports that FEMA has deployed 66 personnel to Tucson, Glendale, Kingman and Prescott Valley to help accelerate their efforts at vaccine sites.

Public Health

- Nevada officials announced the COVID-19 UK variant was detected in a specimen from a Las Vegas woman. Some local officials suggest that the state should increase their prevention efforts.

Private Sector

- In California, a group of tech workers created VaccinateCA.com, a database with a map of COVID-19 vaccination sites in the state, since there was not statewide site. It is verified by a group of 200 volunteers who phone bank for information.
- In California, the annual California Strawberry Festival in Oxnard, scheduled for mid-May, is now cancelled due to the uncertainty surrounding the pandemic.

REGION TEN

- In Akutan, Alaska there was a coronavirus outbreak. Numerous employees tested positive for coronavirus at the Trident Seafoods processing plant.

Community Mitigation

- Local media breaks down how Idaho residents 65 and older that aren't living in long-term care facilities can get the COVID-19 vaccine. On February 1, individuals eligible for the vaccine will be able to find appointments in their area from the state website.

TRADITIONAL MEDIA

Federal Response

- National media has frequently reported on vaccine distribution plan developments shared during today’s White House COVID-19 Response Team’s virtual press brief.
 - Two national outlets emphasized the CDC director’s estimation of 479,000 to 514,000 pandemic-related fatalities by mid-February, adding that despite virus variants present in 26 states, approved vaccines appear to successfully provide protection.
- Multiple national and local outlets highlight several federal agencies warning about vaccine fraud schemes, urging members of the public to not communicate their personal information over the phone. (example 1, example 2, example 3)
- This morning, one national news outlet highlighted FEMA’s recent \$216 million grant to pay for vaccine storage, transport, distribution and administration services. Congressional representatives had previously stated these areas created a ‘supply-demand imbalance.’

This report is for official use only. Intended recipients are emergency management officials requiring information about the immediate impact and needs associated with the event.

Supply Chain

- Since Monday, coverage regarding state and local governments complaints of insufficient amount of vaccine doses remains high.
 - In response to community concerns, California’s governor has announced changes to the states’ current system for receiving the COVID-19 vaccination. The new plan will “simplify eligibility.” The system prioritizes healthcare workers, residents aged 65 and older, teachers, childcare workers, emergency responders, and food and agriculture workers. Afterward, the state will reportedly prioritize eligible vaccine recipients by age.
 - Pennsylvania’s governor is reportedly attributing vaccine accessibility difficulties to supply overpromises from the prior White House administration. The governor also states that a decentralized vaccine signup system should serve more efficiently.
- This morning, one U.S. Virgin Islands news outlet reported FEMA will reimburse the island government for costs related to storing, handling, and distributing the vaccine. The article proceeds to highlight U.S. Virgin Islands currently operates 32 territorial facilities and receives just under 3,000 vaccine doses per week.
- One national radio outlet’s online platform reported N95 masks remain in short supply due to limited retailers. This report has been widely reposted by various local television outlets. The original story references the White House’s invocation of Defense Production Act to boost critical medical supplies as well as urging the general public to wear masks. (example 1, example 2, example 3)

Vulnerable Populations

- In Dallas, Texas, one outlet reported Tuesday night that caretakers and family members confined to their homes remained worried about the lack of access to a vaccine. An associate medical director of Prospero Health said there has yet to be formalized plans on how to vaccinate the thousands of homebound Texans.
- In Washington state, cities and county governments are organizing vaccination teams to help those who cannot access a medical clinic for treatment. Vulnerable communities referenced include Rainier Valley, Kent, SeaTac, Covington, Maple Valley and South King counties.

Healthcare System Stress

- Ahead of North Carolina governor’s press conference update this afternoon, the state’s healthcare systems and county health departments are reportedly fighting to acquire limited doses. The state is also expected to receive its first federal shipment of vaccines today.
- In Washington state, Overlake Medical Center and Clinics’ chief development officer, emailed donors who gave more than $10,000 to the Eastside Hospital System that they will receive ‘special access’ to coveted vaccine slots. The email gave the donors an access code to register for appointments 'by invite' only. Overlake reportedly shut down online access to the invite-only clinic after getting a call from Governor Jay Inslee's staff.

Public Health

- This morning, Palm Beach County, Florida's commissioner has strongly criticized the state governor for deciding to designate Publix grocer's pharmacies as sole distributors in the county. The county's commissioners also expressed discontent of enabling the private sector instead of public health officials to vaccinate residents as well as the fear of a dose shortage after February 5th.
- This afternoon, one local outlet references CDC's recently released analysis on allergies to both Pfizer and Moderna vaccines, which concludes low anaphylaxis risk.

Private Sector

- Late this morning, Moderna has confirmed the company is discussing the possibility of delivering another 100 million vaccine doses later this year. This would bring the total commitment of vaccine dose purchases from Moderna to 300 million.
- At least one national outlet reports CVS pharmacy will start offering in-store vaccinations in "New York, Indiana and Massachusetts," expecting to deliver 25 million each month. The article references the federal government previously tapping CVS and Walgreens to help vaccinate nursing home residents.

Vaccination frustration

Leaders struggle to get on the same page about giving shots equitably

BY EVERETT BAILEY JR. Dallas officials say residents remain confused by the COVID-19 vaccination process. The residents are not alone. Some City Council members said Monday that they were dealing with their own frustrations over public and internal communication and frustration. Several council members said issues with Dallas County's communication about how and when people can get vaccinated at the Fair Park pop-ups, as well as the mayor's tendency to reveal updates via news releases, were causing lapses in informing people and contributing to residents not being helped as quickly as possible.

"The confusion is going to get worse, and there could be anger," said council member David "Buddy" Hinkle. "I don't think we're all on the same page, and it's pretty obvious we're not."

State to handle vaccine rollout

System includes network of providers, inoculation sites and new website

By Nico Savidge

Frustrated by the sluggish pace of California's COVID-19 vaccine program, state officials are taking charge with a streamlined new system they say will deliver shots to residents more quickly than the fractured and localized model they have now.

"They'll need to pick up the pace. Presumably, the Biden said Tuesday his new administration is ramping up delivery of vaccines to states by six months as 50% next week. Biden said the administration has purchased 100 million doses from manufacturers to have 300 million Americans vaccinated."

COVID UK variant detected in Alaska

More than 101,000 doses of COVID-19 vaccine have been administered

White state officials are opening up more appointments for COVID-19 vaccinations and preparing to receive more vaccine doses in February, at least one Alaskan was infected by the new United Kingdom variant known for its faster and easier transmission.

The Anchorage resident who tested positive for the new strain of the virus had recently traveled to a state where the variant has already been detected. A couple of days after the resident returned to Alaska, the patient started experiencing COVID-19 symptoms on Dec. 17, received positive test results on Dec. 22 and isolated after that.

Alaska continues to see decline in cases, deaths but new strain spreads easier

The dominant strain in the U.S. by late spring and has the potential to drive further increases in infections in coming months.

The city and county are trying to ensure that the most vulnerable residents are able to register for and receive COVID-19 vaccines in a faster than the regular Tuesday news conference.

"Any breach in protocol means a high likelihood of transmission," he said. "So the more times you go around without a mask and interface with other people or don't watch that six-foot distance and don't wash your hands, that means that's just a higher likelihood the virus is going to make its way into your system."

Nationally, 24 states registered 253 cases of the U.K. variant, according to data from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, cited in the report.

Stanislaus County remains hard-pressed by COVID-19

By KEN CALHOUN

Stanislaus County's health officer said Tuesday the county continues to struggle with the coronavirus pandemic, even though the state lifted a regional stay-home order Monday. The state decision was based on a projection that hospitals in vaccine clinics are set up to vaccinate 16,000 to 20,000 residents per week. With a nationwide shortage of coronavirus vaccines, however, the county can only vaccinate about 4,400 doses per week. The Modesto Cancer Center Plaza administered 1,090 doses Monday, and 1,136 doses were injected at the Stanislaus State University clinic in Turlock. The county expected to give 800 first doses to people who lined up at Oakland's clinic Tuesday. A fourth hub the University is expected to open later this week. California was eagerly awaiting more details County staff said the four

County is stuck in 'deep purple'

Challenges are daunting for Napa to move to less restrictive tier stay-at-home order ended on Monday. Counties are once more subject to California's color-coded system for restrictions, from the most restrictive purple to the least restrictive yellow. "We landed back in purple and I can tell you it's deep purple," the Karen Belasco, county public health officer, told the county board of supervisors on Tuesday. Restrictions include limiting series and places of worship to outdoor service and limiting retail stores to 25% capacity. Moving to red would allow restaurants, fitness centers and houses of worship — but not winery tastings — to be indoors with restrictions. Retail could operate at 50% of capacity. For Napa County, the immediate goal is red — more from purple to red. The journey as of Tuesday seemed daunting.

Biden pledges surge in vaccine to states

Push to inoculate 300M by early fall does little to lessen frustration of Texas leaders

By Jonathan Drew and Zeke Miller
houstonchronicle.com

Answering growing frustration over vaccine shortages, President Joe Biden announced Tuesday that the U.S. is targeting deliveries to hard-pressed states over the next three weeks and expects to provide enough doses to vaccinate 300 million Americans by the end of the summer or early fall.

President Joe Biden shared his push to boost drug deliveries to hard-hit states such as Texas in a "warrior effort."

ShopRite shifts drug business to CVS

PHARMACIES IN 62 SHOPRITE stores from Connecticut to Maryland are closing over the next month and retooling customers to nearby CVS pharmacies.

ShopRite owners Worldwide Foods Corp., based in Woodbridge Township, Middlesex County, has sold its customer lists to the Rhode Island-based CVS Pharmacy drug-store chain and managed them to CVS locations.

The changes include 22 in the Philadelphia area and parts of South Jersey and Delaware, according to a list provided by CVS. An additional 147 ShopRites will have pharmacies, spokeswoman Danielle Emmer said.

For years, food markets aggressively added pharmacies to their stores, seeing them as draws for customers. But the stores have lately been closing them, lacking

State 'unconquerable' amid virus, disasters says Reeves

MISSISSIPPI is "unconquerable" after a year dominated by the coronavirus pandemic and natural disasters including tornadoes that cut wide paths of destruction east Easter Sunday, Republican Gov. Tate Reeves said in his State of the State speech Tuesday. Speaking on the south steps of the Capitol, Reeves made a few policy proposals. He renewed his call for eliminating the state's personal income tax and said he would sign a bill to increase teachers' pay. He called on legislators to make "wise investments" in workforce training, although he did not offer specific proposals. And he vowed that Mississippi will vaccinate people against the coronavirus as quickly as possible.

"We need to crush this virus and get back to our way of life," Reeves said, according to a prepared text of his speech. "The virus is still here, and it cannot be solved by ignoring it. We have to defeat it, because Mississippians are done. We're done burying loved ones who were lost to this virus. We're done with stressed hospitals. We're done with the fearful talk of lockdowns and shutdowns. We're ready for community again."
