

Dear People,

The age of oil is over. Fracking is destroying the water and land and causing earthquakes where they did not occur before. More people who live near fracking are being treated for cancer. Fracked gas has a high methane content that is much, much worse than CO2. We need renewable power in Connecticut, and we need to stop wasting natural resources. We do not need pipelines running underground that could explode at any time. We do not need pipelines crossing our watershed areas. We do not need pipelines taking over private property. We do not need pipelines carrying fracked gas across the state to be shipped across other states and eventually overseas. The only people who will benefit from this are the gas companies and the pipeline companies, and this will only be a short term gain for them for the shale areas are already drying up. Bringing fracked gas to Connecticut will not benefit the people of Connecticut or the people of the United States. Renewable energy is the only safe, convenient energy for the 21st century.

Dorothy Lovett Buckley
3 Fern Street
Hartford, CT 06105