Description: Join the Connecticut Equity and Environmental Justice Advisory Council’s Water Subcommittee to learn about watersheds and how your community can become involved in managing watersheds in your neighborhood. Come learn about what watershed management has to do with the droughts or intense storms that we’ve been experiencing in the past year. We know this is increasingly an issue across rural and urban areas of our state, and we’re hoping to discuss the unique challenges and opportunities we have to supporting communities in managing their local watersheds. Join CT DEEP, CEEJAC, and CT Soil and Water Conservation Districts for a series of conversations on community-based watershed management.

This is a public meeting and will be recorded and posted on the Connecticut Equity and Environmental Justice Advisory Council website.
