Notes from retiring LEPS.

“I’ll say that it’s been very challenging and rewarding work. I think the CEUs requirement is essential, given the complexity of the work and the ever changing body of regulated contaminants, and statutes and regulations. I think for younger newly minted LEPS, a course that includes one or more detailed case studies that summarize Phases I, II, & III, and remediation, as well as completion of RAPs, COIs, Receptor Surveys, and Verifications would be very instructive. It doesn’t have to be a highly technical case, just one that covers all of the potential bases. The course should highlight that one needs to keep a perspective on the entire process at each step, starting with the Phase I, and not think of each step as a singular event.” #469 Joseph Magdol

#195 Ted Stevens is retiring and wishes you all well.

Congratulations to our retiring LEPS!

E. New Business

EPOC, an approved distance course provider, has requested an on-demand distance course conversion of CTLEP 504W recorded April 16, 2021 - In Situ Remediation Monitoring Programs: Considerations and Design. EPOC is adding test questions as required.
