You are required to have at least one group selection. You will select the group(s) within the location that is relevant to you, and you are also able to add national groups to see additional courses. If you ever move, you are able to edit your group selection here. To move to a new state group, delete your current state selection, then select "Join Another Group" to make your new state group selection. When going through the group selection, you will be shown lists of groups to select from. When you see "Confirm these selections," you are able to finish your group selection, but we highly recommend selecting the appropriate groups until there are no group selections remaining.
