Chair - Any other issues to be added to this list of topics for the commission to consider? Amy MacNamara, as the representative of the CT Bar Association Family Law Section, would like the opportunity to bring this list to their committee advising her on their topics of interest and ask if they have additional topics they wish to have addressed at this guidelines commission. Agreed that the family law section of the bar should have that opportunity and hopefully will have any additions by February or March guidelines commission meetings. If any other members have topics they wish to consider, please send an email about this topic to the Chair, Vice Chair and Graham Shaffer. At some point the window of additions to this list will close.

5:08 pm. – Possibility of future in person meetings. Chair, the February meeting will be remote as well as March. Graham Shaffer requests a month or two notice of in person meetings to make sure that the DSS office chosen can accommodate the meeting with a room, technology, and parking.

5:12 pm – The open discussion. Graham Shaffer provided update on the DSS contract with Jane Venohr to provide the economic study so important to the guidelines commission. She will attend the February meeting and discuss a variety of topics including:

- methodology of guidelines calculation
- a preliminary look at what the guidelines may look like based on our current guidelines and prospective economic changes based on what she is seeing in neighboring states
- answer questions from commission members

Very important for all commission members to attend this February meeting. If you have any questions about this please reach out to Graham Shaffer and he'll be happy to speak with you.

Additionally, CTN, the C-SPAN for the CT General Assembly, may wish to broadcast that meeting. Chair impressing on members the importance of attending the February meeting.
