Public Awareness

- Consistently, the majority of victims of reported hate crimes in Connecticut are individuals.
- Victims often have little or no relationship with their offender(s) or the relationship is not known.
- In Connecticut, many of the reported hate crimes occur in places where we all deserve to feel safe - at home, on a sidewalk, or a college campus.

Reporting a Hate Crime

No one should have to fear being the victim of a crime for being the person they are. If you believe you are the victim of a hate crime, or believe you witnessed a hate crime, dial 911 in an emergency or use the contacts provided to report.

If you, or your organization, receives a threat or experiences a hate crime or violent act, please report the activity. Call your local police or contact the Hate Crimes Investigative Unit of the Connecticut State Police at hate.crimes@ct.gov or submit a tip at tips.fbi.gov. For emergencies Dial 911.
