DOAG ETHICS STATEMENT
(Eff. 8.3.2020)

It is the policy of the Department of Agriculture (DOAG), and the responsibility of each appointed official and employee within DOAG, to conduct all aspects of DOAG operations in compliance with applicable state and federal laws and regulations. The conduct of certain DOAG officials and employees, such as medical and professional staff, may also be subject to particular codes of ethics, and/or specific policies and procedures that address the provision of care to DOAG clients. DOAG is committed to fostering an agency-wide culture of individual and organizational responsibility and accountability for compliance with the State Code of Ethics and other applicable regulatory provisions that govern the conduct of DOAG officials and employees.
