Description:

Your First Step was founded by a group of recovering addicts dedicated to giving others the opportunity for treatment. We connect others with the services they need to help them in their struggle against substance abuse whether that be a detox center, an inpatient or outpatient treatment program, mental health services or just an empathetic ear. As people in recovery ourselves, we have personally experienced the highs and lows of addiction and the recovery process and understand in a way that most others can't the process of beating addiction. Through our experiences, we've learned how important it is to lend a hand to others in need, even when they don't realize that they need it. Sometimes your first step isn't admitting that you have a problem – it's the tentative questions or thoughts that arise about the possibility of treatment. Figuring out where to start and what your options are can be confusing. We know, because we've been there. That's why we've created Your First Step, to provide a resource for the men and women who don't quite know where to begin when it comes to seeking treatment for addiction.

Gender Specific for:MALE; RT Program Code: CU

Open Close:True, Session Group:False, Session Numbers: 1, Evidence Based:False

Description:

The objective of the Change Unit is threefold. First to increase offenders overall personal responsibility, for their choices that led to their present incarceration and the past choices that continue to cause problems in their life. Secondly, offenders explore how their continued use of alcohol and/or drugs has influenced their decision making and consequences. They are encouraged to survey how changing their thinking around substances will change the way they feel; promoting a change in behavior(s). Lastly, participants examine abstinence from all addictive substances as a way to prevent future arrests and to better meet the challenges and opportunities that await them upon their release. CHANGE Unit participants include a COMMUNITY where offenders focus on change, make better choices, practice recovery skills and altering thinking patterns to promote growth. Staff assist offenders in the process, using available resources/support. Offenders provide support to one another by embracing the therapeutic community framework of the unit. Successful community reintegration, reduced recidivism are best achieved by a team effort. Together, we can attain the success that offenders envision for themselves. Our community is made up of a diverse population that is willing to put forth a concerted effort to invest in themselves and the therapeutic community.

Description:

This is a group designed for inmates in the DOC's Chronic Disciplinary Unit. One of the problems that many inmates have in general, and restrictive housing inmates have in particular, is that they lack the skills necessary for problem solving. The first part of this class is designed to help inmates learn that not all problems can be solved and to assist them in approaching problems so as to (1) respond in the best way to the presented problem and (2) not to make the situation worse. In the second part of the class the inmates review a videotape which shows inmates who have completed a restrictive housing program. In that video the inmates discuss what they believe is necessary in order to "do your bid." The video serves as a stimulus for inmates to discuss how it is possible to live in a prison environment without getting into trouble.

Description:

CHS offers primary and preventive services in Adult Internal Medicine, Adolescent Medicine, Behavioral Health, Dental Care, Optometry, Pediatrics, Podiatry, and Women's Health. The health center also offers specialty services such as its Diabetes Collaborative, a national program which takes a multidisciplinary approach to treatment, and social services such as its Food Pantry which provides food to over eighty families each week, in addition to an on-site pharmacy and laboratory. As part of its program of community outreach, CHS participates in a number of community events each year including health fairs and provides transportation service to and from appointments for patients.

CHS is not a clinic. We are a community health center where you can bring your entire family, and receive the same close, personal care and medical expertise you would expect from a private practice or hospital. CHS is accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Health Care Organizations. While the Joint Commission sets the standards for the care in hospitals, accreditation is not required for community health centers. CHS undertook this effort as part of our commitment to excellence in our clinical practices, and providing every patient the quality of care they deserve.

The mission of Dress for Success is to promote the economic independence of disadvantaged women by providing professional attire, a network of support and the career development tools to help women thrive in work and in life. Dress for Success serves clients by referral only, and women must have an interview scheduled before receiving clothing. Our clients come to us from a continually expanding and diverse group of non-profit and government agencies including homeless shelters, immigration services, job training programs, educational institutions and domestic violence shelters, among many other organizations. On her initial visit a woman receives a suit appropriate for the industry in which she is interviewing and, if available, accessories. After a woman finds a job she returns to Dress for Success for additional clothing that can be mixed and matched to make several outfits, providing her with the foundation for a professional wardrobe.

Effective Fatherhood program is a 12 week parenting course based on Circle of Security Parenting framework. The program will be based on reflective learning using the action reflection model to encourage a new and better informed action. The program will draw heavily on attachment theory and focus on helping parents better respond to the needs of their children and hopefully create secure attachments. Effective fatherhood debunks the myth of the perfect parent and instead encourages participants to be good enough parents.

Description:

FIC provides specialized services that strengthen families, enhance community safety, and promote individual responsibility. FIC is one of only a few organizations dedicated to meeting the critical needs of offenders and their families. Families of offenders, especially children with parents who are incarcerated, have special needs. Offenders who rejoin families and reenter communities make a much better adjustment if the family has a "safety net." Family relationships play a significant role in helping offenders rebuild their lives. Experience has taught us that if an offender maintains a positive family and has the skills to be successful within that context, the chances of successful reentry into the community increase and recidivism diminishes.

Our programs and services for offenders and their families are based on documented best practices in the field and are designed to help preserve and strengthen family ties. Families in Crisis understands that without interventions, incarceration becomes a cycle that often repeats itself. In order to significantly improve the lives of our clients, Families in Crisis is committed to meeting the unique needs of families in a comprehensive and holistic fashion.

Description:

Fresh Start Community ReEntry Program

This innovative, research-based nonresidential model results in the successful reintegration of formerly-incarcerated persons into their families and communities. Our holistic approach engages and prepares prisoners prior to release, utilizes successful ex-offenders as leaders, role models, and mentors, builds collaborations with stakeholders, and creates positive pro-social networks in the community. The results are: productive, tax-paying citizens, stronger families and communities, increased public safety, reduced costs to taxpayers, and improved quality of life in the region and across the state. Yale University research has observed that Fresh Start programs have reduced recidivism in Connecticut. Gender-specific programming is provided for women in collaboration with our partner agency, The Center for Women and Families of Eastern Fairfield County.

Compendium Program: Healing Trauma

Gender Specific for:FEMALE; RT Program Code: 0

Open Close:True, Session Group:False, Session Numbers: 6, Evidence Based:True

Description:

Healing Trauma was developed by Stephanie Covington LCSW. It is a 6-session trauma intervention group designed for women who have been abused. Each session runs for approximately 2 hours and is best facilitated in groups of 10-12 members in a sequentially closed group. The curriculum is available in both English and Spanish.

There are 4 session topics which include the process of trauma, power and abuse, grounding and self-soothing, and healthy relationships. There is a strong emphasis on grounding skills. Healing Trauma is particularly designed for settings requiring a shorter intervention. The 6-session curriculum allows young adults and women to have a treatment-oriented program, to include the three core things that both staff and group members need. This includes an understanding of what trauma is, its process and the impact that trauma has on both the inner self (thoughts, feelings, beliefs and values) and the outer self (behavior and relationships).

Description:

This program offers an integrated system of care for inmates who have been sentenced to a period of three months or more, who have substance use issues (drug/alcohol score of 3 or higher), co-occurring mental health issues (mental health score of 3 or lower), and physical health concerns (medical score of 1 or higher). The inmates are expected to be released into the greater New Haven community within a four to six-month period of time and must be committed to working with the Living Free Program's Peer Advocates on various re-entry issues and concerns. Living Free will meet with each inmate at their designated facility for a structured four step process to ideally enroll and assess their needs for addiction, mental health, and/or medical treatment and care. If enrolled, the final step of this program is to bring the inmate on an "escorted visit" from their designated facility to the ForDD Clinic to meet with their treatment providers and Peer Advocate for discharge planning prior to their release date. Once released, each inmate is expected to attend weekly appointments with the treatment providers and Peer Advocates at the ForDD Clinic.

Gender Specific for:FEMALE; RT Program Code: 0

Description:

The Project comes to life through correspondence(letters) between ad FGN staffer or volunteer and an offender, also known as the gardener. Their letters articulate to the FGM what kind of flowers or plants are grown in the garden bed, which is located at the FGM. The gardens become extensions of the offender in the community - creative and positive expressions of beauty and healing that volunteers enact on behalf of the gardener. The size and layout of Artist Jackie Sumell's plot echoes prison cells with "fixtures" made from biodegradable materials that will disappear over time as the plants and flowers mature. The artist focuses her work on the effects of the prison and is interested in the empathy the gardens can help cultivate for the incarcerated.
