Dear Taxpayer:

Why You Are Receiving This Letter

Connecticut Department of Revenue Services (DRS) records show that you filed a 2018 Connecticut Income Tax return, but have not yet filed a 2019 return. We are notifying you so that you may avoid the accumulation of interest and nonfiler penalties.

How You Should Respond

- Review your Connecticut state income tax filing records. If necessary, contact your tax preparer.
- If you have requested an extension of time to file your return or have recently filed a paper return you may disregard this notice.
- If you need to file a 2019 Connecticut income tax return, the fastest and easiest way is electronically by visiting the DRS website at www.portal.ct.gov/drs and logging in to our Taxpayer Service Center (TSC).
- If you are unsure of your requirement to file, you can visit the Individual Income Tax Information page on the DRS website using the following link: <https://portal.ct.gov/DRS/Individuals/Individuals>. Here you will find helpful information on filing requirements along with answers to commonly asked questions.
- If you have determined that you have no filing requirement for 2019 there is nothing further that you need to do.

If you have questions or need assistance regarding your requirement to file, you may call the Income Tax Audit Unit at 860-541-4542. Please note that due to call volumes you may experience an extended wait time. Visiting the DRS website and the Taxpayer Service Center (TSC) is the most efficient way to resolve this matter.

Sincerely,

Income Tax Audit Unit
