Items Specifically Excluded From the Exemption: Conn. Gen. Stat. § 12-412(120) specifically excludes several categories of items from the exemption. The following categories of items are taxable even if they contain drugs or medicines:

- Cosmetics;
- Dentifrices, such as toothpaste, tooth powder, dental floss, denture cream, denture cleaner, and any other powder, paste or liquid used in cleaning the teeth;
- Deodorants, such as underarm, foot, and feminine;
- Hair care products, such as shampoo, conditioner, hairspray, dandruff remedies, and any other product used to clean, condition, or style hair;
- Mouthwash;
- Shaving products, such as shaving cream, aftershave lotion, and depilatories; and
- Soaps, such as hand, body, facial, and foot.

Products marketed as items in these categories remain subject to sales and use taxes, even if they contain drugs or medicines that are listed in the exemption. For example, mouthwashes are not exempt even though they contain antiseptics such as alcohol or hydrogen peroxide or are labeled antiseptic. Likewise, medicated cosmetics, medicated toothpaste, medicated aftershave lotion or shaving cream, antibacterial soap, medicated shampoo and dandruff treatments, and medicated deodorants are not exempt regardless of how they are labeled.

Other Taxable Items Not Included in the Exemption: The following nonprescription items are not exempt under Conn. Gen. Stat. § 12-412(120) because they are not among the nonprescription drugs or medicines listed in the exemption. This list is not all-inclusive.

- Bandages and wound dressings (unless medicated with antiseptics or antibiotics);
- Caffeine products for drowsiness;
- Contraceptive products (unless antiviral);
- Cotton swabs;
- Diuretics;
- Hair growing products with minoxidil;

- Hair removal products;
- Lubricating jelly;
- Mineral oil;
- Moisturizers;

- Sanitary napkins and tampons;
- Skin, hand, face, and body creams and lotions (unless medicated, and marketed as a medication);
- Suntan lotion, sunscreens, and sun blocks; and
- Talcum and baby powder (unless medicated, and marketed as a medication).

Effective Date: Effective for sales occurring on and after April 1, 2015.

Statutory Authority: Conn. Gen. Stat. §12-412(120).

Effect on Other Documents: This Special Notice modifies and supersedes in part Informational Publication 2007(10), Sales and Use Tax Exemptions for Prescription and Nonprescription Drugs and Medicines and Health-Related Products, and Policy Statement 2001(9), Sales and Use Taxes on Sales and Purchases Made by Veterinarians, to the extent these publications discuss nonprescription drugs and medicines that were exempt under prior law.

Effect of This Document: A Special Notice announces a new policy or practice in response to changes in state or federal laws or regulations or to judicial decisions. A Special Notice indicates an informal interpretation of Connecticut tax law by the Department of Revenue Services (DRS).
