INCOME TAX EXTENSION DUE DATE RAPIDLY APPROACHING

The clock is ticking! The Connecticut income tax extension deadline for the 2025 taxable year is approaching. Those taxpayers who requested additional time have until Oct. 15, 2026, to file their 2025 income tax return. If you haven't done so yet, you are encouraged to take the steps necessary to file your 2025 return. DRS can assist you with any questions. For more information, see the "How to Get Assistance" section below.

NEW TAX CREDIT FOR SMALL BUSINESSES

Commissioner Mark Boughton joined Governor Ned Lamont, Access Health CT, and CBIA to discuss the ICHRA credit for small businesses. Search "pass-through entity" on our homepage to find the form.

SEASONAL EMPLOYERS

The holiday season will be here sooner than you expect! Make sure your business is set up for the applicable taxes this holiday season. To help you prepare for the upcoming season, please review the Seasonal and Household Employees Tax Information page.

SPOTLIGHT: VOLUNTARY DISCLOSURE PROGRAM

If a taxpayer has failed to pay Connecticut taxes or has underreported income or transactions on which taxes should be paid, the taxpayer may contact DRS to determine their eligibility for the DRS Voluntary Disclosure Program. For more information, visit the Voluntary Disclosure Program page.

DRS OUTREACH EVENTS

There is something special about fall in Connecticut. As the crisp autumn air sets in and the leaves begin to turn colors, this is a great time to take a drive and enjoy the beautiful landscapes of Connecticut.

While you're enjoying your drive, stop by and say hello at one of the tax engagements that DRS will be hosting across the state. The agency will have a variety of informational tax material to share with you and will be available to assist with any tax questions that you may have. Included is a list of the latest engagements. Also, make sure to visit the regularly updated DRS Tax Events Calendar at portal.ct.gov/drs for the upcoming engagements and for additional information.
