CHAIRMAN PAI ANNOUNCES NEW APPOINTMENTS TO THE INTERGOVERNMENTAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Chairman Ajit Pai today announced the appointment of eighteen (18) new members to the FCC's Intergovernmental Advisory Committee (IAC) and named Doug Ducey, Governor of Arizona, Chair of the newly expanded IAC. Chairman Pai would like to thank Dannel Malloy, Governor of the State of Connecticut and previous IAC Chair, and Elin Katz, his designee to the IAC, for their work leading the IAC through the first year of its current term.¹ Ms. Katz will continue to serve on the committee as designee of Governor Malloy.

BACKGROUND

The vacancies that are now being filled resulted from both the January 2018 order expanding the IAC from 15 to 30 members and the need to replace two members whose elected terms ended in January 2018—Commissioner Ronald Brisé from the Florida Public Service Commission and Kasim Reed, Mayor City of Atlanta—and the late Edwin M. Lee, Mayor of the City and County of San Francisco, who passed away in December 2017.²

¹ On September 29, 2016, the Commission announced the reauthorization of the IAC for a term of two years, with the option to reauthorize it at the end of the two-year period (2017-2019) and sought nominations for membership. See FCC Announces Reauthorization of Its Intergovernmental Advisory Committee and Solicits Nominations for Membership on the Committee, Public Notice, 31 FCC Rcd 10883 (2016). At the time, the IAC was comprised of 15 representatives of state, local and Tribal governments with expertise in telecommunications policy. On December 29, 2016, FCC Chairman Tom Wheeler announced the members of the 2017-2019 IAC and solicited nominations for an open seat for an elected or appointed Tribal representative. See Chairman Wheeler Announces Intergovernmental Advisory Committee Members, Public Notice, 31 FCC Rcd 13533 (2016). Subsequently, Chairman Pai announced the appointment of Danae Wilson, Manager, Department of Technology Services for the Nez Perce Tribe. See Chairman Pai Announces the Appointment of a New Tribal Representative to the Intergovernmental Advisory Committee, Public Notice, 32 FCC Rcd 1852 (2017).

² In the Matter of Modification of Subpart G, Section 0.701 of the Commission's Rules, Order, FCC 17-172 (rel. December 20, 2017). This Order was effective immediately upon publication in the Federal Register on January 8, 2018. See 83 FR 732.

On January 11, 2018, the Commission released a Public Notice announcing the vacancies and seeking nominations for membership.³ The new members will serve through the end of the IAC's current term, which runs through March 24, 2019.⁴ The next meeting date for the IAC will be announced in a subsequent public notice.

MISSION

The IAC provides guidance, expertise, and recommendations to the Commission on a range of telecommunication issues for which local, state, and Tribal governments explicitly or inherently share responsibility or administration with the Commission.

MEMBERSHIP

Pursuant to revisions to Section 0.701(b) of the Commission's rules, the IAC now consists of thirty members (or their designated employees) of which at least:

- 1) four shall be elected municipal officials (city mayors and city council members);
- 2) two shall be elected county officials (county commissioners or council members);
- 3) one shall be a local government attorney;
- 4) one shall be an elected state executive;
- 5) three shall be elected state legislators;
- 6) one shall be a public utilities or public service commissioner; and
- 7) three shall be Native American Tribal representatives.

Because of the vacancies created by the completion of the terms of office of Commissioner Brisé and Mayor Reed and the passing of Mayor Lee, the new members must include at least one elected municipal official, one elected county official and one public utilities or public service commissioner.
