TRUST FRAMEWORK and INITIAL USE CASES

Organizing Principle for Establishing Trust

Covered entities* with relationships in common may share individually identifiable health information

- The disclosure must pertain to the covered entity's relationship with the shared patient
- Sharing must fall under one of the HIPAA permitted purposes of treatment, payment, or healthcare operations or as required by law

*Sharing can also occur for certain public health purposes; Also note exception related to self-pay

Steps to Legally Connect to the HIE

- Step One: Execute one of the following agreements to join the network:
(1) Qualified Data Sharing Organization Agreement (QDSOA) or
(2) Simple Data Sharing Organization Agreement (SDSOA)
- Step Two: Engage in Technical Connection Activities to share information
- Step Three: Participate in Use Case development activities and ongoing active data sharing

HIE Will Operate Based on Use Cases

A Use Case in general is the interaction between a system and the users of that system to produce results of value

Initial Use Cases

Use Case	Description
Clinical Care Summary Pull	Allows PO's to see clinical data from other POs for specific patients who have a relationship in common under HIPAA
Encounter Notifications (ADT's)	HIA passes ADT messages - forwarding to other POs (Feed to Project Notify)
eCQM's Push	HIA generates normalized electronic Clinical Quality Measures
