Date: August 31, 2023

Subject: Dress code for POST In-Service Training Classes
Rescinds GN 90-03 (Revised) and all previous General Notices on this topic.

The purpose of this General Notice is to amend the dress code for in-service training courses sponsored by the POST Training Academy. This dress code applies to all in-service training classes (Unless otherwise noted in a training announcement) whether held at the Connecticut Police Academy, a Satellite Academy, or an alternate training location. All training announcements will note whether the dress code is in effect for that class. Training supervisors/officers are to ensure their personnel are advised accordingly.

All training participants and instructors are to wear their uniform of the day or the civilian equivalent (Business casual) when attending in-service training, whether that training be held during the day or in the evening, as occurs on occasion.

Violations of the dress code may result in dismissal from the training, loss of POSTC review training credits and notification to the agency's training supervisor of the matter.
