Overview

Being in school every day is as important as ever before!

Chronic absence measures lost time from learning. It is defined as missing 10 percent or more of the total number of days enrolled during the school year. Just two days per month can lead to chronic absence. It includes both excused, unexcused, and out-of-school suspensions. For example, a student who has been enrolled for the first 30 school days at the beginning of the school year and has been absent three of those days is chronically absent. If a student misses 18 days in 1 school year, you will be chronically absent.

Being chronically absent has a huge impact on a student's ability to read at grade level, perform academically, and graduate on time. Good attendance can help children do well in school, and eventually in the workplace.

- Staffing shortages

Building Context

1. Next, think about any school/district-wide initiatives that have been put forward by your district's administration in the last few years.
1. Please note one or two of these initiatives in the chat. (for example, a focus on Marzano's work, or a focus on the Science of Reading)

Building Context

Chronic absence is different from truancy (unexcused absences only) or average daily attendance (how many students show up to school each day).

Chronic Absence vs. Truancy

Truancy

- ▲ Counts ONLY unexcused absences
- ▲ Emphasizes individual compliance with school rules
- ▲ Uses typically more blaming and punitive, solutions

Chronic Absence

- Counts ALL absences (excused, unexcused & suspensions)
- Emphasizes impact of missed days and benefits of being present
- Uses preventative, problem-solving, trauma-sensitive strategies
- Cultivates family & student engagement

how can we help?

Washington Post Opinion:

A surge in absentee students might require a radical rethink of schools

As schools focus on what's to be done, they might acknowledge what's not to be done. Research suggests that punitive responses hurt more than they help.

Those methods are thankfully falling out of favor, but some localities still impose suspensions as punishment. It turns out that punishing kids for missing school by making them miss more school doesn't inspire a great relationship with learning.

All this strikes at the core of the challenge: Children need to want to go to school.

Mindset Shift

EQUITY
meeting students where they are,
as they are

It is critical for educators to go beyond doing equity or implementing equity...to being equity.

Baruti Kafele

Equity is a reflection of an educator's humanity toward the students he or she serves.

Being equity requires constant self-reflection and internal examination of how one interacts with students and seeks to meet their learning and social needs—as they are. It requires developing an equity mindset.

1. How would you describe your personal “equity mindset”?
1. What about your school or district as a whole? Does that mindset impact attendance and engagement? How so?

Relationships are Essential to Positive Conditions for Learning

Principles of Family Engagement

Source: CSDE Framework for Family Engagement

Reducing chronic absence requires addressing challenges worsened or created by the pandemic

Barriers

- Chronic and acute illness
- Family responsibilities or home situation
- Trauma
- Poor transportation
- Housing and food insecurity
- Inequitable access to needed services
- System involvement
- Lack of predictable schedules for learning
- Lack of access to tech
- Community violence
- Etc. and many more!

Aversion

- Struggling academically and/or behaviorally
- Unwelcoming school climate
- Social and peer challenges
- Anxiety
- Biased disciplinary and suspension practices
- Undiagnosed disability and/or disability accommodations
- Parents had negative educational experiences

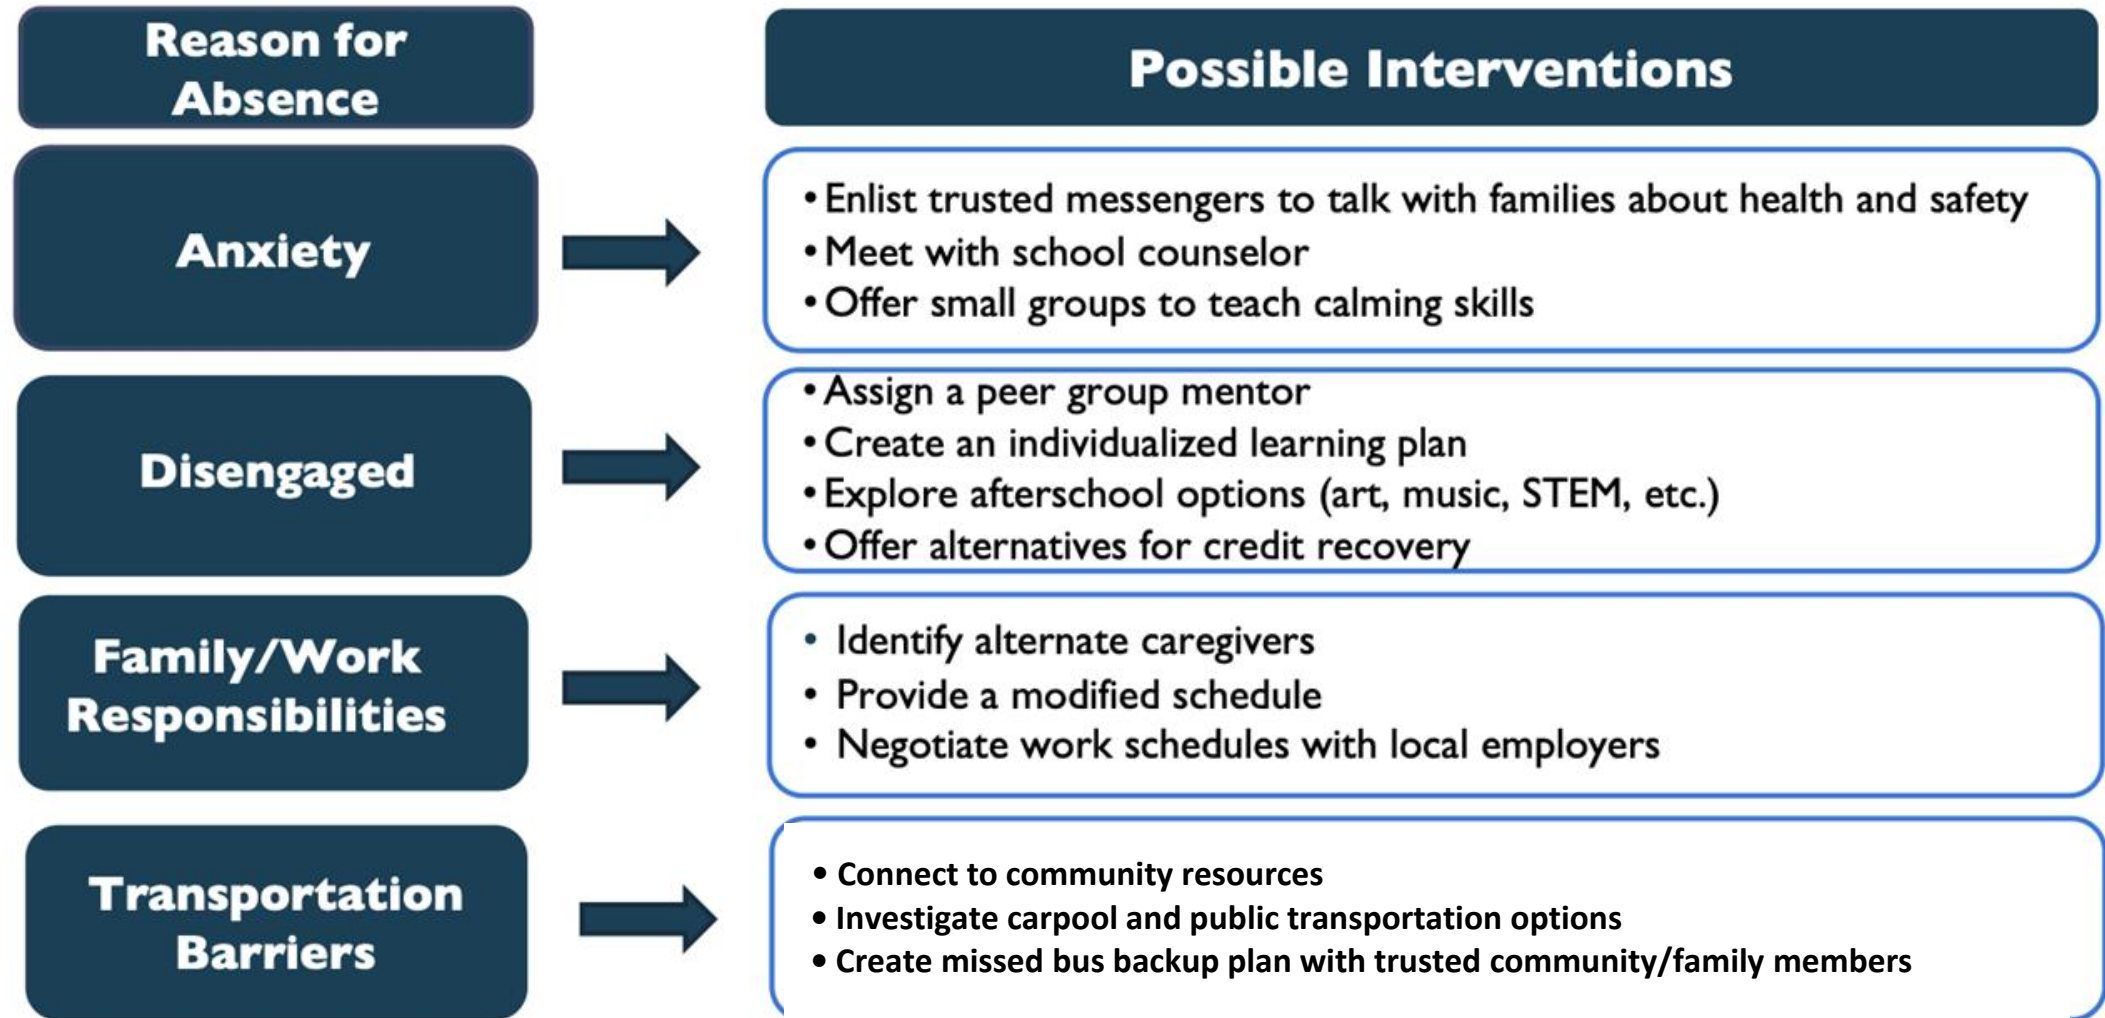

Disengagement

- Lack of challenging, culturally responsive instruction
- Bored
- No meaningful relationships to adults in the school (especially given staff shortages)
- Lack of enrichment opportunities
- Lack of academic and behavioral support
- Failure to earn credits
- Drawn to low-wage job vs. being in high school

Misconceptions

- Absences are only a problem if they are unexcused
- Missing 2 days per month doesn't affect learning
- Lose track and underestimate TOTAL absences
- Sporadic absences aren't a problem
- Attendance only matters in the older grades
- Suspensions don't count as absence

Align Interventions to Reasons for Absences

Tier 1: Universal Attendance Supports

- ❖ Clear, concise and consistent communication about schedules and expectations
- ❖ Routines, rituals and celebrations related to attendance and engagement
- ❖ Personalized positive communication to families when students are absent
- ❖ Recognition of good and improved attendance
- ❖ Impact of attendance on whole child widely understood
- ❖ Connection to a caring adult in the school
- ❖ Every child and their family encouraged to develop a success plan that includes attention to attendance

Tier 2: Early Interventions Layer in Support and Remove Barriers to Attendance

- ❖ Common community and school barriers identified and addressed
- ❖ Individualized student success plan that includes attention to attendance
- ❖ Attendance strategies added to IEP
- ❖ Learner Engagement and Attendance Program (LEAP)
- ❖ Family visit
- ❖ Mentors (e.g., Success Mentors, Peer Group Connections)
- ❖ Intensive tutoring
- ❖ Check-In/Check-Out (CICO)
- ❖ Expanded learning opportunities
- ❖ Small group interventions and supports for students
- ❖ Restorative alternatives to discipline and suspension

Tier 3: Intensive interventions

- ❖ Educational support champions / advocates
- ❖ Interagency case management
- ❖ Housing stability supports
- ❖ Student attendance review board
- ❖ Community-based, non-criminal truancy court
- ❖ Individualized learning and success plan leading to graduation
- ❖ Legal Intervention (as a last resort)
