

Educator and Leader Evaluation and Support Plan

2024-2025

Acknowledgements

The Middletown Public Schools Professional Development and Evaluation Committee (PDEC) developed and will maintain the Educator and Leader Evaluation and Support Plan (ESP) to support a comprehensive educator and leader evaluation system to align with the CT Guidelines for Educator and Leader Evaluation and Support 2023. The Middletown Board of Education will approve the plan and any future revisions.

Connecticut Guidelines

Connecticut Guidelines for Educator and Leader Evaluation and Support 2023 Components Reimagining Educator and Leader Evaluation and Support

The design of the Connecticut Guidelines for Educator Evaluation and Support 2023 (CT Guidelines 2023) are representative of research-based effective practice and include six elements.

- Standards and criteria
- Goal setting process
- Professional practice and educator growth
- Evaluator/observer/stakeholder feedback and engagement
- Process elements
- Dispute resolution

The combined vision, guiding principles, and overall framework for educators' and leaders' evaluation and support describe a systematic process of continuous improvement and professional learning leading to high quality professional practice and improved outcomes for students.

Standards and Criteria

In Middletown Public Schools, the Evaluation and Support Plan (ESP) is designed so that teachers continuously improve in their enactment of the MPS Instructional Vision in order to help students develop the skills, knowledge, and dispositions articulated in the MPS Portrait of a Global Citizen. The Instructional Vision is aligned with professional standards across each educator job type.

Professional standards for each of the following job types have been mapped to the Instructional Vision. To view the standards map, see Appendix A.

- Administrator
- Instructional Specialist (EIST, SPEIST, Instructional Coach)
- Library Media Specialist
- School Counselor
- School Psychologist
- Social Worker
- Special Education Teacher
- Speech and Language Pathologist
- Teacher

As professional learning is essential to the Evaluation and Support Plan (ESP), the Learning Forward Professional Learning Standards 2022 serve as a useful tool to illustrate how professional learning can deepen educator and leader knowledge, promote reflection, and maximize impact. As a tool, the professional learning standards help educators and leaders intentionally design learning, address content, and consider how to accomplish the expected learning transformation desired.

Standards and Criteria

The graphic below, adapted from Learning Forward's Standards for Professional Learning 2022, shows the relationship between professional learning for educators and students.

Professional Learning Communities

The Evaluation and Support Plan (ESP) is centered around educators and leaders working together in Professional Learning Communities (PLCs).

PLCs are defined as groups of educators that collaborate purposefully to inspect and improve student learning. As stated by DuFour and Mattos, “The most powerful strategy for improving both teaching and learning, however, is not by micromanaging instruction but by creating the collaborative culture and collective responsibility of a professional learning community (PLC)” (2013, p. 37).

Research also strongly supports the impact PLCs can have on student learning. One review of the available research states, “The collective results of these studies offer an unequivocal answer to the question about whether the literature supports the assumption that student learning increases when teachers participate in professional learning communities. The answer is a resounding and encouraging yes.” (Vescio, Ross, & Adams, 2008, p. 87)

Healthy, thriving PLCs are vital to the growth of educators and students. To that end, all MPS educators will meet monthly in job-alike PLCs in order to participate in a continuous learning process.

PLCs will be provided with structured agendas for each meeting and will be expected to document meeting notes using the PLC Agenda Form (See PLC Meeting Agenda Sample Template). PLC members will share meeting roles over the course of the year, including the role of facilitator.

Evaluators are expected to participate in PLCs to learn about the team’s and individuals’ progress in the continuous learning process, celebrate successes, and understand where teams and individuals might need more support. Evaluators, however, are not facilitators of PLCs.

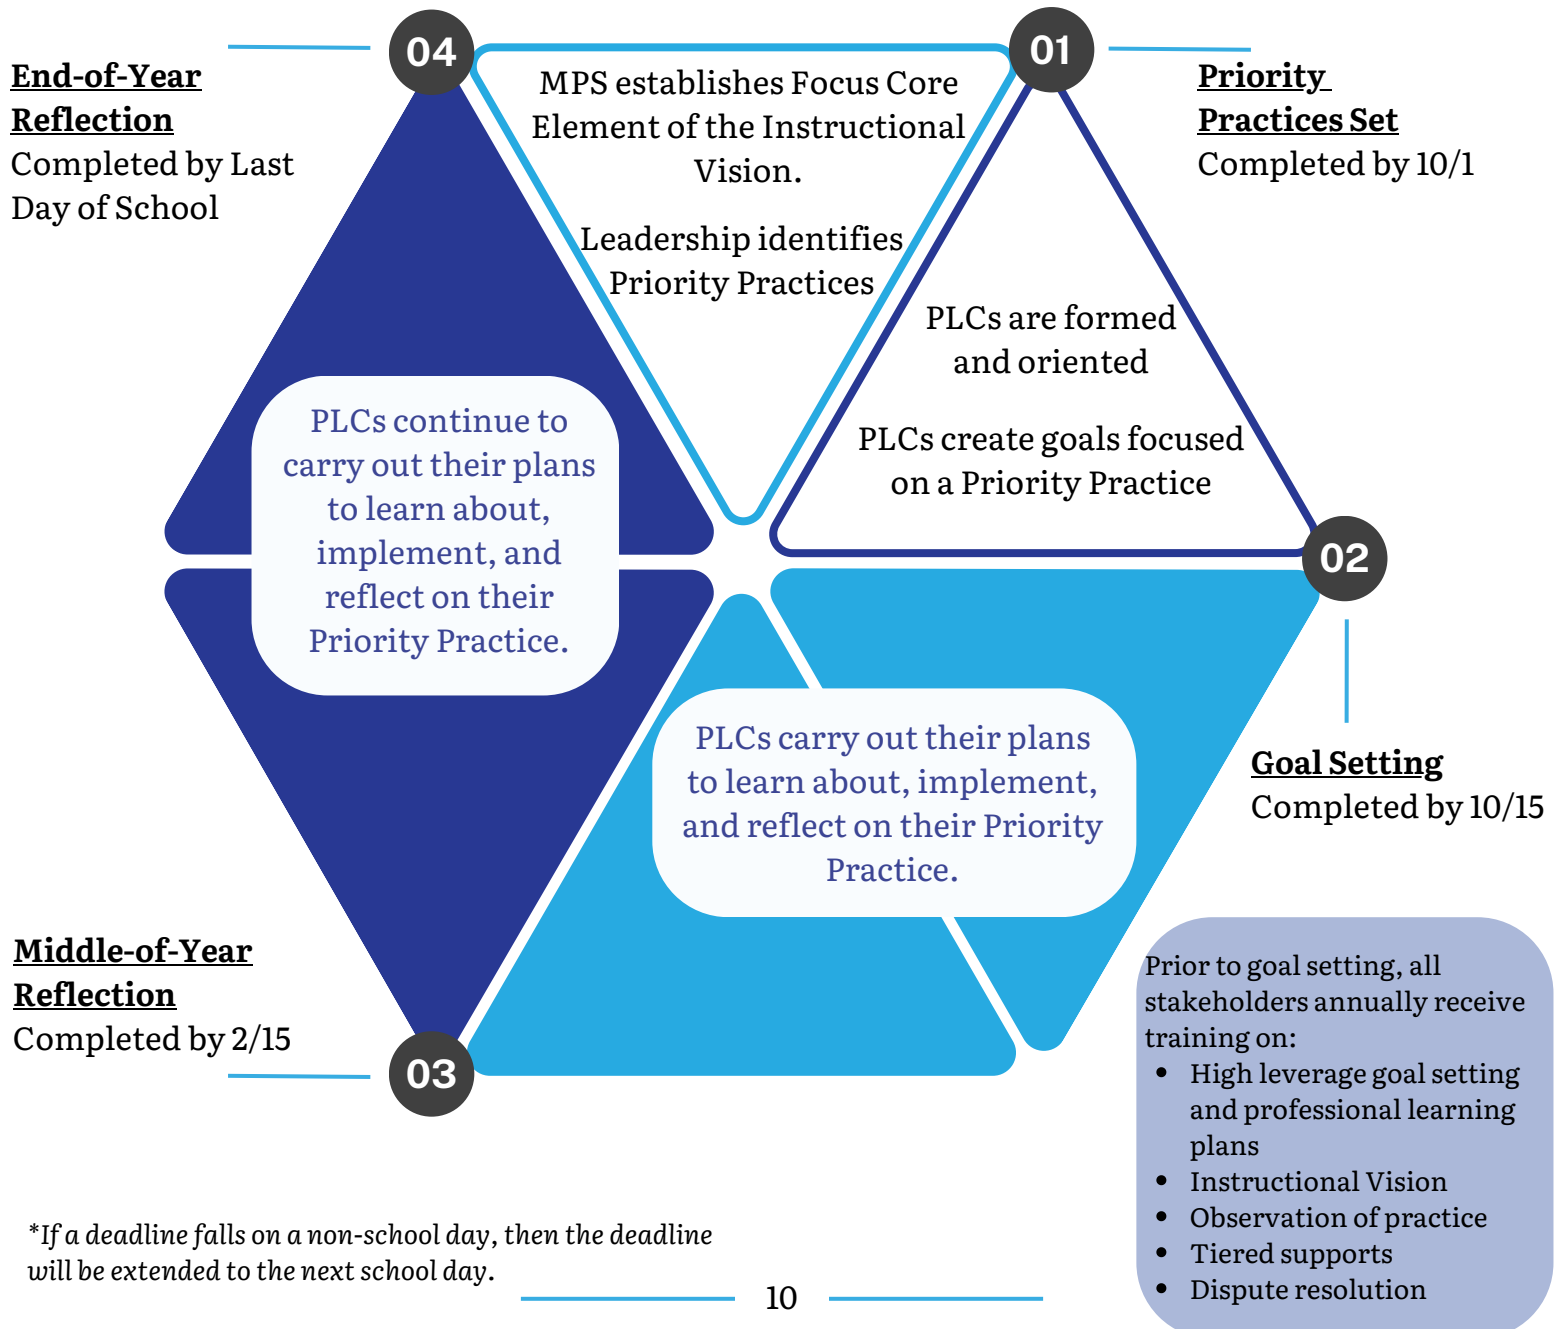

The Educator

Educator Evaluation Process

The following pages contain the steps, reflections, and linked resources associated with each step of the continuous improvement process to assist educators and evaluators through the process. All educators are assigned a primary evaluator (092 or 093).

Educator Timeline

July-Early September

- District establishes Focus Core Element of the Instructional Vision.
- Leaders delineate limited set of Priority Practices to support Focus Core Element.
- Evaluators establish PLCs.

Mid October-Mid February

- PLCs implement plans for learning, trying, and reflecting on practices
- PLC Meetings #3-5- PLCs reflect on evidence of learning and/or implementation of practice.
- Evaluators participate in and monitor PLCs for evidence of fidelity to the continuous learning process.
- Evaluators may decide individual educators are in need of tiered support.
- PLC Meeting #6- Midyear Meeting. PLCs reflect on evidence of impact.
- Evaluators conduct midyear walkthroughs.

Annual training for evaluators as required by C.G.S. 10-151b will include engaging in and providing reciprocal feedback tied to standards and evidence of professional practice

Early September-Mid October

- PLC Meeting #1- Evaluation orientation and building of group dynamics.
- PLC Meeting #2- Goal Setting Meeting. Evaluators introduce goal setting expectations and PLCs document goals.
- Evaluators conduct baseline walkthroughs.

Mid February-End of Year

- PLCs implement plans for learning, trying, and reflecting on practices
- PLC Meetings #7-8- PLCs reflect on evidence of learning and/or implementation of practice.
- Evaluators participate in and monitor PLCs for evidence of fidelity to the continuous learning process.
- Evaluators may decide individual educators are in need of tiered support.
- PLC Meeting #9- End-of-Year Meeting. PLCs reflect on evidence of impact.
- Individual educators complete End-of-Year Reflection to be rated by Evaluator.

Goal Setting

During the summer months, the Superintendent determines a district-wide goal prioritizing one (1) Focus Core Element of the Instructional Vision.

School and department leaders then identify a limited set of Priority Practices, connected to professional standards (Appendix A), that support the implementation of the Focus Core Element. This identification of Priority Practices will require collaboration between school and department leadership so that where possible, practices can be consistent across schools and departments.

The PDEC must approve these Priority Practices by September 30. The PDEC will evaluate the practices on the following criteria:

- Feasibility to be reasonably implemented in one year
- Support in evidence and research
- Likely impact on student growth and achievement
- Alignment to the Instructional Vision

Job-alike PLCs will identify one of the Priority Practices on which to focus for the school year. All members of a PLC must identify the same practice, so consensus-achieving protocols may be used if necessary.

Using the Beginning-of-Year Goals and Planning Form, individuals will document their learning plans and what measures of student learning, growth and achievement, and educator growth they will provide to indicate impact. Though all members of a PLC will focus on the same Priority Practice, elements of the goal such as learning resources, implementation timelines, and measures of impact may be differentiated to align with each educator's level of readiness.* Goals must be approved by the assigned evaluator by October 15 and with mutual agreement and continued alignment to the Focus Core Element, may extend for up to three years.

Beginning teachers in the TEAM program are highly encouraged to align these goal elements with their current Professional Growth and Action Plans (PGAPs).*

Goal Setting

The Superintendent determines the Focus
Core Element of the Instructional Vision

School and department leaders collaborate to identify a limited set of Priority Practices.

Each PLC determines, by consensus, one Prioritized Practice for which to set a year-long goal.

Individual educators within each PLC document their learning plan using the Beginning-of-Year Goals and Planning Form.

Midyear Meeting

The Midyear Meeting provides an opportunity for PLCs to reflect on and review multiple and varied qualitative and quantitative pieces of artifactual evidence (as identified in the Beginning-of-Year Goals and Planning Form, and otherwise) in order to evaluate their progress in developing the Prioritized Practice and its impact on students. Individuals will complete the Middle-of-Year Reflection Form.

The evaluator provides feedback on this reflection, focused on the PLCs engagement in the continuous learning process. During this check-in, the PLC also provides feedback to the evaluator to delineate any need for continued and/or additional supports to continue to make progress on their goals. Finally, at this point, revisions to the goal, including establishing a new goal, may be completed.

Midyear Meetings must be complete by February 15.

End-of-Year Meeting

The End-of-Year Meeting provides an opportunity for PLCs to reflect on and review multiple and varied qualitative and quantitative pieces of artifactual evidence in a similar manner to the Midyear Meeting. The PLC provides feedback to the evaluator to make decisions around selecting Priority Practices for the next school year.

Each member of the PLC completes an individual End-of-Year Reflection Form documenting what they've learned, how they've learned it, how it has impacted their practice, and what effect it has had on students. Reflections must demonstrate the impact of professional learning and educator practice on student growth. The evaluator rates the engagement of each individual educator in the continuous learning process using the End-of-Year Reflection Rubric and Feedback Form.

All End-of-Year Reflection Forms must be completed by the last day of school.

Professional Practice and Growth

The implementation of the continuous learning process is shared between the members of the PLC and their evaluator. After setting goals in which PLC members and evaluators clearly identify a Priority Practice and delineate a plan for improving that practice, PLC members will meet monthly to engage in collaborative learning experiences and reflect on the implementation of the Priority Practice.

It is imperative that PLC members gather evidence of what they've learned, how they've applied it, and what impact it has had on students. This evidence must include direct student feedback on the effectiveness of the practice (See Examples of Student Feedback Templates). It is recommended that other evidence includes student data in various forms (daily formative assessments, common formative assessments, summative assessments, work products, etc.) as well as observational data. Members of the PLC are encouraged to provide each other with observational data through live classroom visits and/or recordings of classroom instruction. A plan for what evidence will be collected must be agreed upon in the goal setting process.

It is expected that all PLC members fully engage in the collaborative continuous learning process. Unequal commitment to the collaborative learning process can negatively impact the learning experiences of PLC members, and therefore negatively impact student outcomes. Evaluators will monitor group dynamics and individual contributions during live PLC meetings and in records of PLC meetings.

Observations and Feedback

Observations

Evaluators will consistently (at least monthly) conduct walkthroughs and observations of practice to identify patterns of improvement in the Priority Practices. These observations should not be used for the purpose of providing educators with task-level feedback, but rather to understand what should be continued or adjusted in the continuous learning process.

In the nature described above, the practice of all educators will be observed a minimum of three times during each school year. This expected number of observations can only be decreased, at the evaluator's discretion, for educators hired partially through a given school year. Additional observations of practice may also be deemed to be necessary for educators receiving Tier 2, 3, or Corrective Support.

PLC members are encouraged to provide each other with observational data through live classroom visits and/or recordings of classroom instruction. PLC members may also request that evaluators, other administrators, instructional coaches, etc. observe their practice as evidence of participation in the continuous learning process.

Feedback

The Evaluation and Support Plan (ESP) embraces feedback from diverse sources to strengthen the continuous learning process. This feedback empowers educators and leaders to learn from diverse perspectives, fostering a collaborative and growth-oriented professional culture.

As such, feedback from specific individuals-- including, but not limited to the evaluator-- at designated times can be incorporated into a PLC's and/or individual's goals. The PLCs and educators will also provide regular and specific feedback to their evaluators to help improve the continuous learning process.

Evaluators will provide feedback to educators in response to walkthroughs and evidence/artifacts presented in PLC meetings. After walkthroughs, evaluators will provide a written detail of the patterns observed to the observed staff, within five days of the walkthrough. During PLC meetings, evaluators will provide verbal feedback as participants, and also written feedback in response to the practices and evidence discussed, but also to group dynamics and meeting effectiveness. Written feedback within the PLC agendas must be provided within five days.

Student feedback is valued as a crucial data point, providing insights into the effectiveness of instructional practices and classroom dynamics. This feedback is collected through various means, such as surveys, focus groups, or classroom observations. Goals must include student feedback as evidence of impact (See Examples of Student Feedback Templates)

Rather than providing feedback after the enactment of a plan or process, the emphasis is on offering feedback during the planning stages and throughout the continuous learning process. This proactive approach allows for constructive input and refinement before implementation, promoting a culture of continuous improvement.

PLCs play a pivotal role in the feedback process. These collaborative groups serve as platforms for peer feedback, allowing educators to share best practices, discuss challenges, and provide constructive critiques in a supportive environment.

Tiered Support

All educators require access to high-quality, targeted professional learning support to improve practice over time. Educators and their evaluators thoughtfully consider and apply three tiers of support, as appropriate, within an evaluation process. All three tiers of support must be implemented prior to the development of a corrective plan.

A pattern of persistent lack of growth and reflection or resistance to growth-oriented feedback should lead to advancing levels of support with a defined process for placing an educator on a Corrective Support Plan with indicators of success for transitioning out of it. Evaluators must utilize and document all three tiers of support prior to the development of a Corrective Support Plan. The Corrective Support Plan shall be developed in consultation with the evaluator, educator, and their exclusive bargaining representative if applicable. (See Support Plan Template)

Tier 1

It is the expectation that all educators consistently access opportunities for professional growth within the district. Tier 1 supports are broadly accessible professional learning opportunities for all, inclusive of, but not limited to, collegial professional conversations, classroom visits, available district resources (e.g., books, articles, videos etc.), formal professional learning opportunities developed and designed by district PDEC, and other general support for all educators (e.g., instructional coaching). These resources should be identified through a goal setting process by mutual agreement.

Tier 2

In addition to Tier 1, Tier 2 supports are more intensive in duration, frequency, and focus (e.g., engaging in a professional learning opportunity, observation of specific classroom practices, etc.) that can be either suggested by the educator and/or recommended by an evaluator.

Tiered Support

Tier 3

In addition to Tier 1 and Tier 2, Tier 3 supports are responsive to unresolved, previously discussed concerns and are developed in collaboration with the educator and may be assigned by the evaluator. Tier 3 supports have clearly articulated areas of focus, duration of time, and criteria for success, and may include a decision to move to a Corrective Support Plan. Tier 3 supports shall be developed in consultation with the evaluator, educator, and their exclusive bargaining representative for certified educators chosen pursuant to C.G.S. §10-153b. The start date and duration of time an educator is receiving this level of support should be clearly documented.

Corrective Support Plan

A pattern of persistent lack of growth and reflection or resistance to growth-oriented feedback should lead to advancing levels of support with a defined process for placing an educator on a Corrective Support Plan with indicators of success for transitioning out of it. Evaluators must utilize and document all three tiers of support prior to the development of a Corrective Support Plan. The Corrective Support Plan shall be developed in consultation with the educator and their exclusive bargaining representative for certified teachers chosen pursuant to C.G.S. §10-153b.

The Corrective Support Plan is separate from the normal educator growth model and must contain:

- clear objectives specific to the well documented area of concern;
- resources, support, and interventions to address the area of concern;
- well defined timeframes for implementing the resources, support, and interventions; and
- supportive actions from the evaluator.

At the conclusion of the Corrective Support Plan period, a number of outcomes are possible as determined in consultation with the evaluator, educator, and bargaining unit representative.

Dispute Resolution

The purpose of the dispute resolution process is to secure at the lowest possible administrative level equitable solutions to disagreements, which from time to time may arise related to the evaluation process. The right of appeal is available to all in the evaluation and support system. As our evaluation and support system is designed to ensure continuous, constructive, and cooperative processes among professional educators, educators/leaders and their evaluators are encouraged to resolve disagreements informally.

Any such matters will be handled as expeditiously as possible, and in no instance will a decision exceed 30 workdays from the date the educator initiated the dispute resolution process. Confidentiality throughout the resolution process shall be conducted in accordance with the law.

Claims that the district has failed to follow the established procedures of the ESP shall be subject to the grievance procedures set forth by the current collective.

Process

The educator being evaluated shall be entitled to collective bargaining representation at all levels of the process.

1. Within three school days of articulating the dispute in writing to his/her/their evaluator, the educator being evaluated and the evaluator will meet with the objective of resolving the matter informally.
2. If there has been no resolution, the individual may choose to continue the dispute resolution process in writing to the superintendent or designee within three workdays of the meeting with his/her/their evaluator (step 1).
3. The superintendent or designee will review all applicable documentation and meet with both parties (evaluator and educator being evaluated) as soon as possible, but no longer than five school days from the date of the written communication to the superintendent or designee. The superintendent or designee will act as arbitrator and make a final decision, which shall be binding.

Time Limits

1. Since it is important that appeals be processed as rapidly as possible, the number of days indicated within this plan shall be considered maximum. The time limits specified may be extended by written agreement of both parties.
2. Days shall mean workdays. Both parties may agree, however, to meet during breaks at mutually agreed upon times.
3. The educator being evaluated must initiate the appeals procedure within five workdays of the scheduled meeting in which the feedback was presented. If no written initiation of a dispute is received by the evaluator within five workdays, the educator shall be considered to have waived the right of appeal.
4. The educator being evaluated must initiate each level of the appeal process within the number of days indicated. The absence of a written appeal at any subsequent level shall be considered as waiving the right to appeal further.

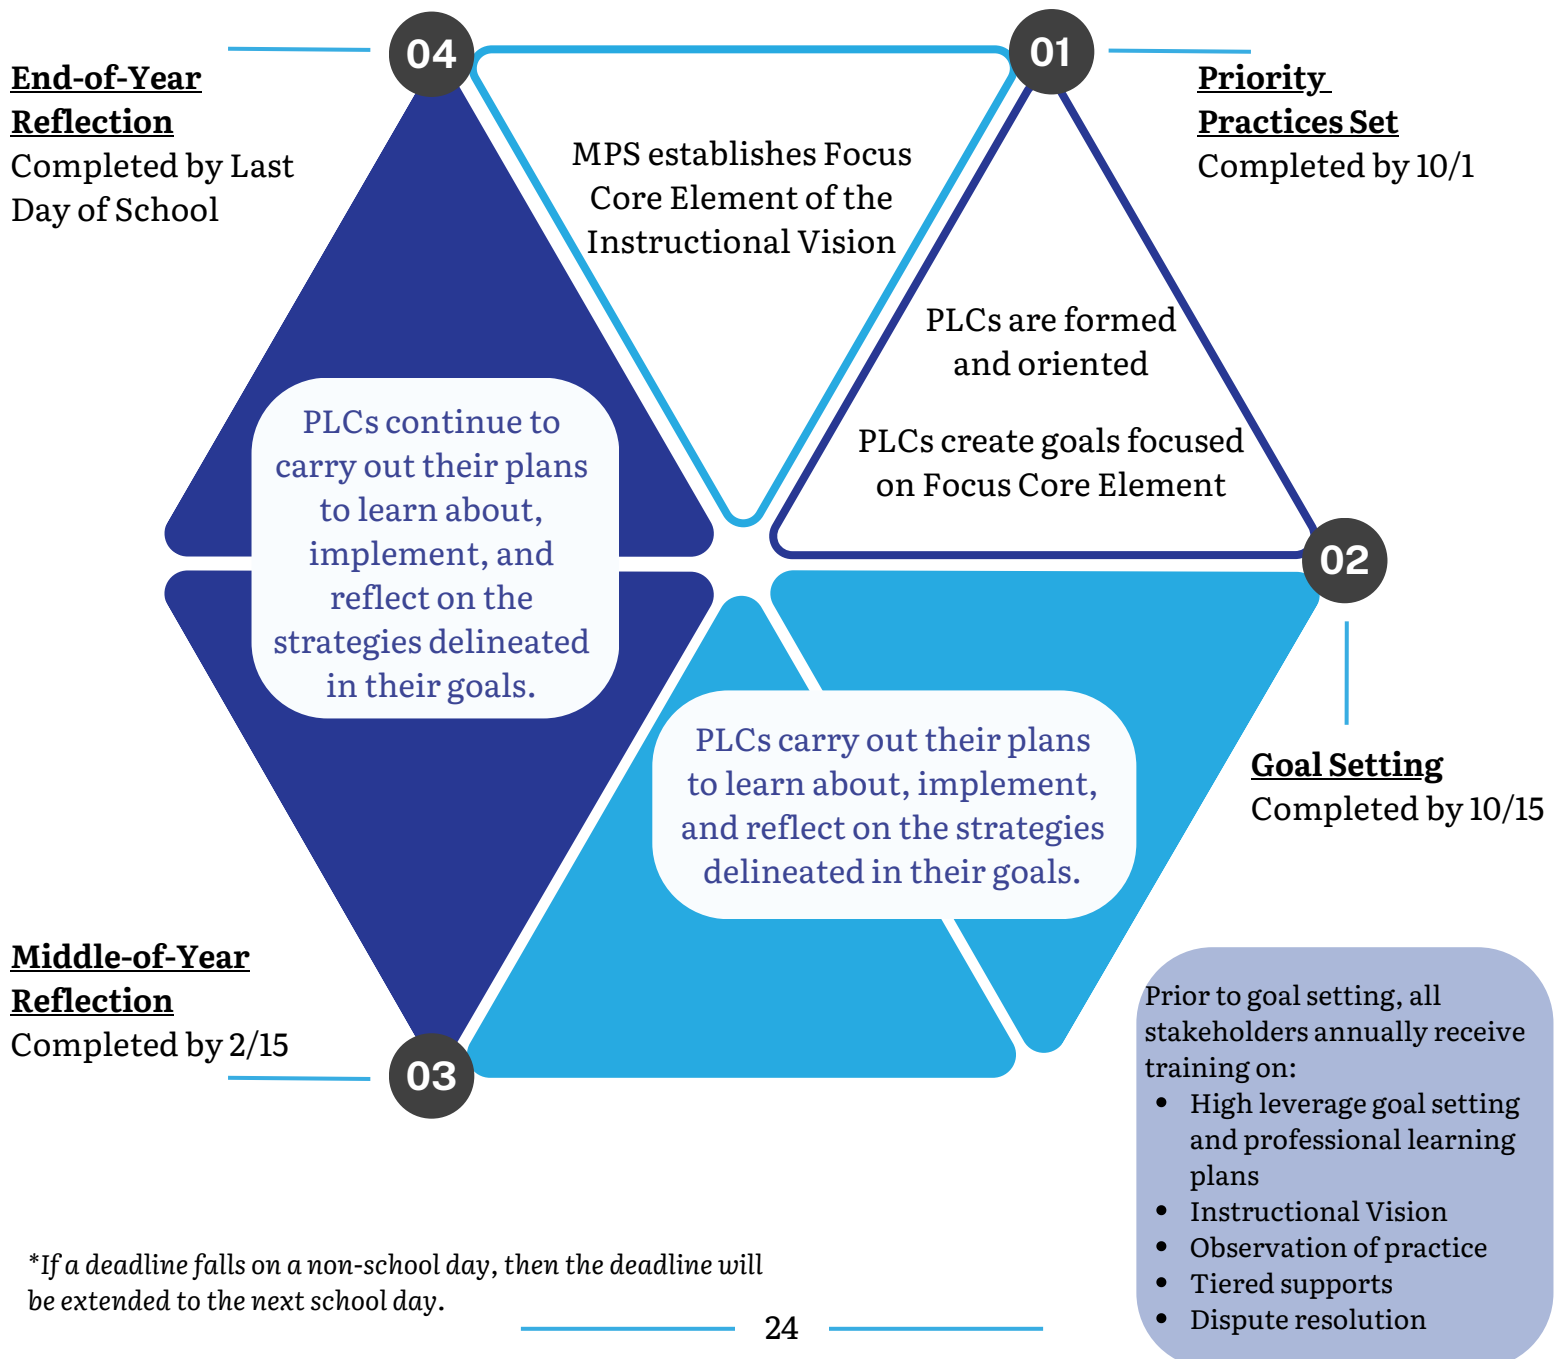

The Leader

Leader Evaluation Process

The following pages contain the steps, reflections, and linked resources associated with each step of the continuous improvement process to assist leaders and evaluators through the process. All leaders are assigned a primary evaluator (092 or 093).

Leader Timeline

July-Early September

- District establishes Focus Core Element of the Instructional Vision.
- Evaluators establish PLCs.
- Training held during Administrator Retreat

Mid October-Mid February

- PLCs implement plans for learning, trying, and reflecting on strategies
- PLC Meetings #3-5- PLCs reflect on evidence of learning and/or implementation of strategy.
- Evaluators participate in and monitor PLCs for evidence of fidelity to the continuous learning process.
- Evaluators may decide individual leaders are in need of tiered support.
- PLC Meeting #6- Midyear Meeting. PLCs reflect on evidence of impact.
- Evaluators conduct midyear walkthroughs.

Annual training for evaluators as required by C.G.S. 10-151b will include engaging in and providing reciprocal feedback tied to standards and evidence of professional practice

Early September-Mid October

- PLC Meeting #1- Evaluation orientation and building of group dynamics.
- PLC Meeting #2- Goal Setting Meeting. Evaluators introduce goal setting expectations and PLCs document goals.
- Evaluators conduct baseline walkthroughs.

Mid February-End of Year

- PLCs implement plans for learning, trying, and reflecting on strategies
- PLC Meetings #7-8- PLCs reflect on evidence of learning and/or implementation of strategy.
- Evaluators participate in and monitor PLCs for evidence of fidelity to the continuous learning process.
- Evaluators may decide individual leaders are in need of tiered support.
- PLC Meeting #9- End-of-Year Meeting. PLCs reflect on evidence of impact.
- Individual leaders complete End-of-Year Reflection to be rated by Evaluator.

Goal Setting

During the summer months, the Superintendent determines a district-wide goal prioritizing one (1) Core Element of the Instructional Vision.

Job-alike PLCs will identify a key strategy or key strategies, connected to professional standards (Appendix A), on which to focus for the school year. All members of a PLC must identify the same strategy or strategies, so consensus-achieving protocols may be used if necessary.

Using the Beginning-of-Year Goals and Planning Form, individuals will document their learning plans and what measures of organizational health; leader and educator growth; and, student learning, growth, and achievement they will provide to indicate impact. Though all members of a PLC will focus on the same strategy or strategies, elements of the goal such as learning resources, implementation timelines, and measures of impact may be differentiated to align with each leader's level of readiness. Goals must be approved by the assigned evaluator by October 15 and with mutual agreement and continued alignment to the Focus Core Element, may extend for up to three years.

Goal Setting

The Superintendent determines the Focus
Core Element of the Instructional Vision

Each PLC determines, by consensus, a key strategy or strategies for which to set a year-long goal.

Individual leaders within each PLC document their learning plan using the Beginning-of-Year Goals and Planning Form.

Midyear Meeting

The Midyear Meeting provides an opportunity for PLCs to reflect on and review multiple and varied qualitative and quantitative pieces of artifactual evidence (as identified in the goal setting form, and otherwise) in order to evaluate their progress in developing the strategy (or, strategies) and its impact on students. Individuals will complete the Middle-of-Year Reflection Form.

The evaluator provides feedback on this reflection, focused on the PLCs engagement in the continuous learning process. During this check-in, the PLC also provides feedback to the evaluator to delineate any need for continued and/or additional supports to continue to make progress on their goals. Finally, at this point, revisions to the goal, including establishing a new goal, may be completed.

Midyear Meetings must be complete by February 15.

End-of-Year Meeting

The End-of-Year Meeting provides an opportunity for PLCs to reflect on and review multiple and varied qualitative and quantitative pieces of artifactual evidence in a similar manner to the Midyear Meeting. The PLC provides feedback to the evaluator to make decisions around selecting strategies for the next school year.

Each member of the PLC completes an individual End-of-Year Reflection Form documenting what they've learned, how they've learned it, how it has impacted their leadership, and what effect it has had on educators and students. Overall, reflections must demonstrate the impact of professional learning and leadership practice on organizational health. The evaluator rates the engagement of each individual leader in the continuous learning process using the End-of-Year Reflection Rubric and Feedback Form.

All End-of-Year Reflection Rubric and Feedback Forms must be completed by the last day of school.

Professional Practice and Growth

The implementation of the continuous learning process is shared between the members of the PLC and their evaluator. After setting goals in which PLC members and evaluators clearly identify a key strategy or strategies and delineate a plan for improving that practice, PLC members will meet monthly to engage in collaborative learning experiences and reflect on the implementation of the strategy or strategies.

It is imperative that PLC members gather evidence of what they've learned, how they've applied it, and what impact it has had on students. This evidence must include direct student feedback on the effectiveness of the strategy. It is recommended that other evidence includes student data in various forms (daily formative assessments, common formative assessments, summative assessments, work products, etc.) as well as data from other constituents like educators, staff, and families. A plan for what evidence will be collected must be agreed upon in the goal setting process.

It is expected that all PLC members fully engage in the collaborative continuous learning process. Unequal commitment to the collaborative learning process can negatively impact the learning experiences of PLC members, and therefore negatively impact outcomes. Evaluators will monitor group dynamics and individual contributions during live PLC meetings and in records of PLC meetings.

Observations and Feedback

Observations

Evaluators will consistently (at least monthly) conduct walkthroughs and observations of practice to identify patterns of improvement in the key strategy or strategies. These observations should not be used for the purpose of providing leaders with task-level feedback, but rather to understand what should be continued or adjusted in the continuous learning process.

In the nature described above, the practice of all leaders will be observed a minimum of three times during each school year. This expected number of observations can only be decreased, at the evaluator's discretion, for leaders hired partially through a given school year. Additional observations of practice may also be deemed to be necessary for leaders receiving Tier 2, 3, or Corrective Support, or if leaders request additional observations as part of their learning plans.

The Evaluation and Support Plan (ESP) embraces feedback from diverse sources to strengthen the continuous learning process. This feedback empowers educators and leaders to learn from diverse perspectives, fostering a collaborative and growth-oriented professional culture.

As such, feedback from specific individuals-- including, but not limited to the evaluator-- at designated times can be incorporated into a PLC's and/or individual's goals. The PLCs and leaders will also provide regular and specific feedback to their evaluators to help improve the continuous learning process.

Evaluators will provide feedback to leaders in response to walkthroughs and evidence/artifacts presented in PLC meetings. After walkthroughs, evaluators will provide a written detail of the patterns observed to the observed staff, within five days of the walkthrough. During PLC meetings, evaluators will provide verbal feedback as participants, and also written feedback in response to the practices and

Student feedback is valued as a crucial data point, providing insights into the effectiveness of instructional practices and classroom dynamics. This feedback is collected through various means, such as surveys, focus groups, or classroom observations. Goals must include student feedback as evidence of impact. Rather than providing feedback after the enactment of a plan or process, the emphasis is on offering feedback during the planning stages and throughout the continuous learning process. This proactive approach allows for constructive input and refinement before implementation, promoting a culture of continuous improvement.

PLCs play a pivotal role in the feedback process. These collaborative groups serve as platforms for peer feedback, allowing leaders to share best practices, discuss challenges, and provide constructive critiques in a supportive environment.

Tiered Support

All leaders require access to high-quality, targeted professional learning support to improve practice over time. Leaders and their evaluators thoughtfully consider and apply three tiers of support, as appropriate, within an evaluation process. All three tiers of support must be implemented prior to the development of a corrective plan.

A pattern of persistent lack of growth and reflection or resistance to growth-oriented feedback should lead to advancing levels of support with a defined process for placing a leader on a Corrective Support Plan with indicators of success for transitioning out of it. Leaders must utilize and document all three tiers of support prior to the development of a Corrective Support Plan. The Corrective Support Plan shall be developed in consultation with the evaluator, leader, and their exclusive bargaining representative if applicable. (See Support Plan Template)

It is the expectation that all leaders consistently access opportunities for professional growth within their district. Tier 1 supports are broadly accessible professional learning opportunities for all, inclusive of, but not limited to, collegial professional conversations, classroom visits, available district resources (e.g., books, articles, videos etc.), formal professional learning opportunities developed and designed by district PDEC, and other general support for all leaders (e.g., instructional coaching). These resources should be identified through a goal setting process by mutual agreement.

In addition to Tier 1, Tier 2 supports are more intensive in duration, frequency, and focus (e.g., engaging in a professional learning opportunity, observation of specific classroom practices, etc.) that can be either suggested by the leader and/or recommended by an evaluator.

Tier 3

In addition to Tier 1 and Tier 2, Tier 3 supports are responsive to unresolved, previously discussed concerns and are developed in collaboration with the leader and may be assigned by the evaluator. Tier 3 supports have clearly articulated areas of focus, duration of time, and criteria for success, and may include a decision to move to a Corrective Support Plan. Tier 3 supports shall be developed in consultation with the evaluator, leader, and their exclusive bargaining representative for certified administrators chosen pursuant to C.G.S. §10-153b. The start date and duration of time a leader is receiving this level of support should be clearly documented.

Corrective Support Plan

A pattern of persistent lack of growth and reflection or resistance to growth-oriented feedback should lead to advancing levels of support with a defined process for placing a leader on a Corrective Support Plan with indicators of success for transitioning out of it. Evaluators must utilize and document all three tiers of support prior to the development of a Corrective Support Plan. The Corrective Support Plan shall be developed in consultation with the leader and their exclusive bargaining representative for certified administrators chosen pursuant to C.G.S. §10-153b.

The Corrective Support Plan is separate from the normal educator growth model and must contain:

- clear objectives specific to the well documented area of concern;
- resources, support, and interventions to address the area of concern;
- well defined timeframes for implementing the resources, support, and interventions; and
- supportive actions from the evaluator.

At the conclusion of the Corrective Support Plan period, a number of outcomes are possible as determined in consultation with the evaluator, leader, and bargaining unit representative.

Dispute Resolution

The purpose of the dispute resolution process is to secure at the lowest possible administrative level equitable solutions to disagreements, which from time to time may arise related to the evaluation process. The right of appeal is available to all in the evaluation and support system. Time Limits

1. Since it is important that appeals be processed as rapidly as possible, the number of days indicated within this plan shall be considered maximum. The time limits specified may be extended by written agreement of both parties.
2. Days shall mean workdays. Both parties may agree, however, to meet during breaks at mutually agreed upon times.
