

Connecticut's Students Need You!

The Connecticut State Department of Education in partnership with the RESC Alliance invites you to a

Virtual Career Fair

aimed at Increasing the racial, ethnic, and linguistic diversity of Connecticut's educator workforce.

June 2 and 3, 2020

You are invited to join us for a free online 'meet and greet' experience with school and district leaders seeking high-quality candidates to teach in Connecticut's public schools. Using an online platform, you will be able to upload your resume and have the opportunity to "chat" with up to 45 schools and districts who will share information about their school communities and the teaching positions that are currently available.

After you register for the career fair, you will be sent a link to access pre-fair modules designed to support rich engagement in this virtual environment. Connecticut teachers and leaders will share personal journeys, discuss how to strategically navigate online chats, and purposefully address contemporary educational issues. We hope these modules and your attendance at the career fair in June will be a valuable part of your overall job seeking experience.
