

Shared Work Claimants Weekly Filing Desk Aid (File Weekly Certification)

Security Warning: For security purposes, it is the responsibility of employees participating in the Shared Work program to set up their own accounts in RECT (ID and PW), to file their New Claims, and to file their Weekly Claims for Shared Work. If the employer files any of the above for their employee(s) it will alert our system to a possible Fraud issue and create a hold on the employee(s) account, claims, and payments. This will delay the filing process.

To file a weekly certification, Claimants will go to www.FileCTUI.com, the CTDOL unemployment filing page. This should be done each week you experience a reduction of work.

You can file anytime Sunday through Saturday. Weekly claims must be completed by 11:59 on Saturday following the week you are claiming benefits.

For example:

- If your hours are reduced on Monday the 3rd of the month, you file a weekly certification for Shared Work starting on Sunday the 9th.
- Failure to submit the weekly certification before 11:59 on Saturday the 15th may result in a delayed benefit payment or a denial of benefits for that week.

To file your weekly certification for Shared Work, click on the “Weekly Filing” if:

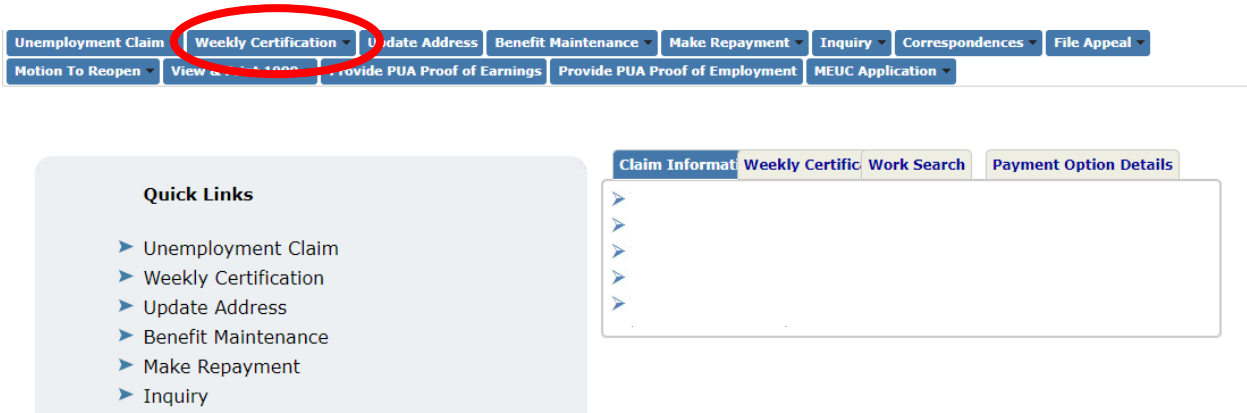

- You have been receiving Shared Work Payments (existing claimant)
- You are a Shared Work Participant that needs to file a weekly certification.

PLEASE NOTE: If you’ve had a break in filing you will need to contact the Shared Work Unit via email at DOL.SharedWork@CT.gov, please include your name, the last 4 digits of your SSN and the week end date that you need filed. You should only be filing weekly certifications for weeks that you receive a reduction in hours. If no reduction was received, please do not file.

After clicking on “Weekly filing”:

- If this is your first time using ReEmployCT you will need to set up a new username and password; (Every unemployment filer must create a new account in the ReEmployCT system)
- If you do not have an open benefit year, please refer to the “New Claim Desk Aid” provided to your employer or view on our website www.SharedWorkCT.com.
- Prior to filing a claim for Shared Work, your employer must submit an application for Shared Work and have been approved.

Step 1: Click on <Weekly Certification>

Step 2: Click on <File Weekly Certification>

This will bring you to the “File Weekly Certification – Shared Work” screen.

Step 3: On the “File Weekly Certification – Shared Work” screen, you will need to answer the questions and then click <Next>. Please note all fields marked with a “*” require an answer to proceed. If you are not directed to the “File Weekly Certification-Shared Work” screen STOP and contact your Shared Work employer. Please do not file the weekly certification.

PLEASE NOTE: You must report all work from any employer other than your Shared Work employer in question 6 below; you will be required to report all hours worked and your gross weekly pay. This will not change the amount of your Shared Work payment.

Please note, this is a sample, and you should answer questions as they pertain to you

Your sharedwork weekly certification for the week of Sunday, June 19, 2022 - Saturday, June 25, 2022 has been accepted. You will be able to view the status of your weekly certification online after 10:00 AM on Wednesday, June 29, 2022.

Based on some of your responses, an investigation will need to be conducted before a determination on your eligibility for benefits can be made. You should continue to file your weekly certifications each week you are unemployed and you will be notified once a decision has been made.

If your claim is allowed and you are otherwise eligible, you may be paid for each of the weeks you filed a timely weekly certification.

If your claim is denied, you will receive a decision letter by mail advising you of the reason for the denied decision, as well as information regarding your rights to file an appeal if you disagree with the decision.
