

Questions on Cannabis?

Let's talk...

Whether you have used cannabis before or are thinking about trying it for the first time, you might have questions about how cannabis can impact your health.

Let's talk about the risks and benefits, and how to make the best choices - specifically for you.

General Care

As your healthcare partner, it's important to know about your cannabis use for treatment planning.

Cannabis & You

Let's discuss the short- and long-term effects on your health, and how it could interact with other medications you take.

Surgical Planning

When scheduling a medical procedure, we can review your cannabis use to make the best choices for the safest outcome.

Safety

If you have cannabis in your home, we can discuss safe storage, disposal, & accidental ingestion risks.

Ask us today or schedule an appointment to discuss how your cannabis use can affect you.
