AGING CONFERENCE

Presented by: The CT Department of Developmental Services, ADS CT State Unit on Aging and Disability Services & The CT Chapter of the American Association on Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities

Aging Matters “Assistive Technology to Support Diverse Needs”

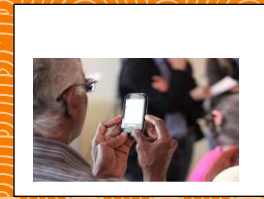

Keynote Presentation Overview:

Efficient and effective access to resources through technology has become imperative in 2023... from healthcare, communication, and social networking — technology is the key to these crucial supports. But what happens when that technology creates a barrier? Accessibility features and assistive technology tools can remove the barriers for many individuals. High- and low-tech supports will be demonstrated for participants. Hands-on activities and explorations will also be facilitated to provide an opportunity for attendees to experience some of the assistive technology firsthand. Finally, additional resources within each of the areas will be provided for an opportunity to follow up or dive deeper into specific tools or areas.
4.0 CEUs for social workers will be offered
