Sec. 46b-215a-3a. Arrearage guidelines

(a) Scope of section

This section shall be used to determine [periodic payments on] child support arrearages and periodic payments thereon, subject to section 46b-215a-5c of the Regulations of Connecticut State Agencies. [The] Except as provided in subsection (f) of this section, the determination of lump sum payments remains subject to the discretion of the judge or family support magistrate, in accordance with existing law.

(b) General rule

(1) Except as provided in subsections (c), (d) and (e) of this section, the weekly arrearage payment shall equal the lesser of:

(A) twenty percent of the weekly current support order, or

(B) fifty-five percent of the obligor's net income, reduced by the amount of the current support order.

(2) In a Title IV-D case where arrearages are owing to both the state and a custodial parent, one payment order shall enter under which payments shall be distributed in accordance with Title IV-D distribution requirements. Such order shall be payable to the custodial parent until the custodial parent's arrearage is satisfied, and then to the state.

(c) Special rule for low-income obligors

Subject to subsection (e)(1) of this section, the weekly arrearage payment of a low-income obligor shall equal the greater of:

(1) ten percent of the weekly current support order, or

(2) one dollar per week.

(d) Special rule if there is no current support order

Subject to subsection (e)(1) of this section, the weekly arrearage payment when there is no current support order in effect for any child of the parties shall equal:

(1) twenty percent of an imputed support obligation for the child for whom the arrearage is owed if the parents have a present duty to provide support for the child, or

(2) one hundred percent of an imputed support obligation for the individual for whom the arrearage is owed if the parents have no present duty to provide support for the individual.

(e) Special rule for child living with the obligor

(1) Applicability

This subsection applies when the child for whom the arrearage is owed is living with the obligor. If this subsection applies, subsections (c) and (d) of this section shall not be used to determine the arrearage payment. For the purposes of this subsection, a child is deemed to be living with the obligor if the circumstances in either subparagraph (A) or subparagraph (B) of this subdivision are found.

(A) The obligor is the child's legal guardian and is currently living in the same household with such child.

(B) The obligor is not the child's legal guardian, but the child has lived in the same household with the obligor for at least:

(i) the six months immediately preceding the determination of the arrearage payment, or

(ii) six of the twelve months immediately preceding such determination.

(2) Special rule

When this subsection applies, the weekly arrearage payment shall be:

(A) one dollar per week if the obligor's gross income is less than or equal to two hundred fifty percent of the poverty guideline for the obligor's household size, as published annually in the Federal Register by the Department of Health and Human Services; or

(B) twenty percent of the imputed support obligation for such child if the obligor's gross income is greater than two hundred fifty percent of the poverty guideline for the obligor's household size, as published annually in the Federal Register by the Department of Health and Human Services.

(f) Special rule for dependency benefits

(1) Applicability

This subsection applies when a custodial parent receives a dependency benefit for the child for whom the arrearage is owed based on an award of Social Security Disability Insurance granted to the noncustodial-parent obligor.

(2) Lump sum awards

A judge or family support magistrate shall reduce any arrearage owed to the custodial parent based on a retroactive, lump-sum award of dependency benefits to the extent such arrearage accrued during the same time said award is intended to cover.

(3) Monthly awards received after lump sum

As required by section 46b-215a-2c(c)(5) of the Regulations of Connecticut State Agencies, monthly dependency benefits shall be used to adjust the presumptive weekly current support owed by the obligor. If the monthly dependency benefit exceeded the amount of presumptive support that would have otherwise been owed but for said adjustment, a judge or family support magistrate may reduce any arrearage owed by the obligor to the custodial parent by an amount not to exceed the total excess amount received by the custodial parent in past months.

(g) Use of the worksheet in arrearage determinations

Line references throughout this subsection are to the worksheet included in section 46b-215a-6 of the Regulations of Connecticut State Agencies, which worksheet is intended for use with the following instructions.

(1) Determine the total arrearage

Add all amounts described in subparagraphs (A), (B) and (C) of this subdivision to determine the total arrearage to be paid for past support of the subject child. Enter the sum on line 32, indicating separately, if applicable, amounts due to the state and amounts due to the family. Amounts comprising the total arrearage are:

(A) the total of all delinquent amounts that have become due and payable under a current support order, but which have not been reduced to a judgment or an arrearage finding;

(B) the total of all unpaid support amounts that have been reduced previously to a judgment or arrearage finding; and

(C) the total of all support amounts due for periods prior to the initial determination of a support order.

(2) Determine the arrearage payment

Enter on line 29 either twenty percent of the line 30 amount or, if applicable, the amount determined in one of subparagraphs (A) to (D), inclusive, of this subdivision (corresponding to paragraphs A to D, inclusive, in section VI of the worksheet). The line 29 amount is the presumptive arrearage payment. Enter this amount on line 31 unless a deviation criterion applies. If the amount entered on line 31 differs from the line 29 amount, complete section VIII of the worksheet.

(A) If the noncustodial parent is a low-income obligor, enter on line 29 the greater of ten percent of the line 30 amount or $1 per week, unless subparagraph (B) of this subdivision applies.

(B) If the child is living with the obligor, enter on line 29 either: (i) $1 per week if the obligor's gross income is less than or equal to two hundred fifty percent of poverty level for the obligor's household size, or (ii) twenty percent of an imputed support obligation for the child if the obligor's gross income is greater than two hundred fifty percent of poverty level for the obligor's household size.

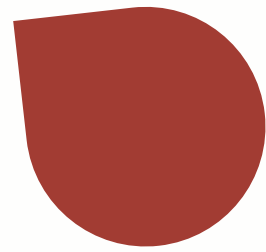

(C) If there is no current support order and subparagraph (B) of this subdivision does not apply, enter on line 29 either: (i) twenty percent of an imputed support obligation if the parents have a present duty to provide support for the child, or (ii) one hundred percent of an imputed support obligation if the parents have no present duty to provide support for the individual.

(D) If subparagraphs (A) to (C), inclusive, of this subdivision do not apply and the sum of the current support and arrearage payments would exceed fifty-five percent of the noncustodial parent's line 14 amount, enter fifty-five percent of the noncustodial parent's line 14 amount, minus the line 30 amount, on line 29.

New LIA language limits rebuttals to the lowest amount within the LIA range.

“The presumption may be rebutted by evidence showing that the application of the lowest amount of child support permitted pursuant to this paragraph would be unjust and inappropriate in the particular case. In determining whether the presumption is rebutted, the court shall consider the principles provided in Section 4053, and the impact of the contemplated adjustment on the respective net incomes of the obligor and the obligee.”

New Deviation Reason

Part II
Section

New Deviation Reason

Family Code Section 4057 (b)(5)

SB 343 amendments allow courts to cap support at 50% of the obligor's net income.

"A support obligor qualifies for the low-income adjustment pursuant to paragraph (7) of subdivision (b) of Section 4055 and the amount of child support established by the formula exceeds 50 percent of the support obligor's net disposable income as defined in Section 4059 after application of the low-income adjustment. The amount of any adjustment pursuant to this paragraph shall not be greater than the amount exceeding 50 percent of the support obligor's net disposable income."

Part II
Section

New Deviation Reason

Criteria for the new deviation reason:

- The support obligor qualifies for the LIA based on their net disposable income (earning less than $2,773 per month).
- After applying the LIA, the guideline support amount exceeds 50% of the support obligor's net disposable income before support.

Part II
Section

New Deviation Reason

If the FC 4057(b)(5) criteria are met, the court has discretion to deviate:

The deviation amount cannot exceed the guideline support exceeding 50% of the support obligor's net disposable income.

Child support add-ons are not part of this comparison.

Multiple Cases

Family Code Section 4057 (c)

SB 343 amendments codify the court's discretion to take necessary steps to toggle support amounts when an obligor owes child support in more than one case.

A court that continues a hearing based on a party's representation that it will file an appropriate request to modify support in a related case may issue a temporary support order."

Additional Child Support

Family Code Section 4062

SB 343 amendments require the court to order only actually incurred childcare costs related to employment or necessary education/training for employment skills, unless they are specifically included in the guideline calculation.

(a) The court shall order the following as additional child support:

(1) Childcare costs, if those expenses are actually incurred, related to employment or to reasonably necessary education or training for employment skills, as described in Section 4063, unless those costs are specifically included in the guideline calculation itself.

(2) The reasonable uninsured health care costs for the children as provided in Section 4063.

Additional Child Support

Family Code Section 4063 (a)

By removing “paragraph (2) of” from Family Code Section 4063(a), SB 343 amendments make this entire section regarding uninsured healthcare costs and payment procedures applicable to actually incurred childcare costs, if those costs have not been specifically included in the guideline calculation itself.

(a) When making an order pursuant to ~~paragraph (2) of~~ subdivision (a) of Section 4062, the court shall:

- (1) Advise each parent, in writing or on the record, of the parent's rights and liabilities, including financial responsibilities.
- (2) Include in its order the time period for a parent to reimburse the other parent for the reimbursing parent's share of the reasonable additional child support costs subject to the requirements of this section.

Judicial Council Form FL-192

NOTICE OF RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES REGARDING CHILD SUPPORT

Childcare and Health Care Costs and Reimbursement Procedures

Your child support order may include a provision for payment of childcare or uninsured health care costs. Childcare costs may be included as part of the monthly child support payment or reimbursable as a percentage of the costs. If the childcare costs are included as part of the monthly child support payment, you must pay that amount each month until the court changes (modifies) the child support order. If you need to change your child support order because there has been a change in the cost of childcare, see page 2.

If you have a child support order that includes a provision for the reimbursement of a percentage of childcare costs or a portion of the child's or children's health care costs and those costs are not paid by insurance, the law says:

- 1. Notice. You must give the other parent an itemized statement of the charges that have been billed for any childcare costs or health care costs not paid by insurance. You must give this statement to the other parent within a reasonable time, but no more than 90 days after those costs were given to you.

- a. Disputed requests for payment. If you dispute a request for payment made by the other parent, you may file a request for the court to resolve the dispute, but only if you pay the requested amount before filing your request.
- b. Nonpayment. If you claim that the other parent has failed to pay you back for a payment, or they have failed to make a payment to the provider after proper notice, you may file a request for the court to resolve the dispute.
- c. Paid charges. The court will presume that if uninsured health care costs or childcare costs for employment or necessary training for job skills have been paid, those costs were reasonable. If you want to dispute paid charges, you will have to show the court that the costs were unreasonable.
- d. Attorney's fees. If the court decides one parent has been unreasonable, it can order that parent to pay the other parent's attorney's fees and costs.

Additional Child Support

Family Code Section 4063 (b)

Amendments to FC 4063(b) extend the timeframe in which the parent incurring costs must provide an itemized statement of the costs to the other parent from 30 days to 90 days.

(b) Unless there has been an assignment of rights pursuant to Section 11477 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, when either parent accrues or pays costs pursuant to an order under this section, that parent shall provide the other parent with an itemized statement of the costs within a reasonable time, but not more than ~~30~~ 90 days after accruing the costs.

Additional Child Support

Family Code Section 4063 (d)

Amendments to FC 4063(d) create a rebuttable presumption that costs actually paid for childcare that is for employment or reasonably necessary for education or training for employment are reasonable.

(d) There is a rebuttable presumption that the costs actually paid for the uninsured health care needs of the children and for childcare that is for employment or reasonably necessary for education or training for employment skills are reasonable, except as provided in subdivision (e).

Additional Child Support

Family Code Section 4063 (g)

(g)(2) With regard to childcare costs for employment or that are reasonably necessary for education or training for employment skills, the court shall consider all relevant facts, including, but not limited to, the following:

- (A) The nature and extent of job-related childcare needs, including, but not limited to, work schedule needs and the duration of education or training for employment skills.
- (B) The necessity and reasonableness of the cost under the circumstances of the case.
- (C) The special needs of the child.
- (D) The reasonable inability of a parent to pay the full amount of reimbursement within a 30-day period and the resulting necessity for a court-ordered payment schedule.

MULTIPLE PARENT FAMILIES

CALCULATING CHILD SUPPORT

This article describes a method for calculating child support in cases involving more than two parents. It also includes an example of how to address the child support calculation when one of the parents involved in the multiple parent family has another child support obligation in another family unit.

MULTIPLE PARENT FAMILIES

CALCULATING CHILD SUPPORT

THE THREE PARENT FAMILY IS BORN

Frank and Claire have a child, Zoey. Frank and Claire are not married but Frank was at the hospital when Zoey was born and signed a Paternity Declaration acknowledging that he was Zoey's father. Shortly after Zoey's birth, Frank was incarcerated and Claire started a relationship with Donald. Donald came to love Zoey and Claire and held Zoey out to the world as his own child for six years until he and Claire had a bad breakup. Claire sought public assistance at which time she named Donald as Zoey's father and absent parent. The local child support agency received a referral to establish support. Upon review of the case, the local child support agency found the paternity declaration Frank signed and listed Frank as Zoey's father. When Frank received a Summons and Complaint he filed an Answer objecting to a judgment being entered against him and alleging that Donald was Zoey's father. The local child support agency searched their local family law filings and found that Donald had motions pending in a Uniform Parentage Action. Donald had a request for custody and visitation of Zoey as well as a request to set aside the paternity declaration signed by Frank with an alternative request to be found as Zoey's third parent. Many hearings on Donald's motions took place and the local child support agency objected to his motion to set aside and argued their motion for judgment against Frank. Ultimately, the court found that pursuant to Family Code Section 7612 both Frank and Donald are Zoey's parents. The local child support agency must now calculate support for a child with more than two parents.

California Family Code (hereinafter "Family Code") Section 4052.5(b) directs that, "after calculating the amount of support owed by each parent under the guideline, the presumption that the guideline amount of support is correct may be rebutted if the court finds that the application of the guideline in that case would be unjust or inappropriate due to special circumstances, pursuant to Section 4057." Family Code Section 4057(b)(5)(D) expresses such a circumstance as a "[case] in which a child is found to have more than two parents."

CALIFORNIA FAMILY CODE SECTION 4052.5(a)

"[t]he statewide uniform guideline, as required by federal regulations, shall apply in any case in which a child has more than two parents. The court shall apply the guideline by dividing child support obligations among the parents based on income and amount of time spent with the child by each parent..."

"Family Code Section 4052.5(b) suggests a calculation of support according to the guideline from which the court could then find that the general presumption that it is correct may be rebutted"

Kathleen Ayers, Chief Attorney,
Tulare County Department of Child Support Services

Family Code Section 4052.5(c) confirms that no “reprogramming of the California Child Support Automation System” was required as a result of the law allowing for more than two parents, referencing Family Code Section 7601(c). This article describes a step by step method for calculating support in multiple parent cases like that of Zoey’s family described above.

- Step 1 • Determine the net income of each parent by using the California Child Support Calculator.
- Step 2 • Apply the Guideline as set forth in Family Code Section 4055 to each parent's net disposable income considering all parents income.
- Step 3 • Apply the Low Income Adjustment if the individual parent would otherwise qualify for it.

To illustrate these steps assume the following: Frank earns full-time minimum wage, has no other dependents, files taxes using the Single status claiming only himself as a dependent, and was awarded a time share with Zoey equal to 14%. Claire earns minimum wage 20 hours per week, has no other dependents, files taxes using the Head of Household status claiming Zoey and herself and has Zoey when she is not with Frank or Donald. Donald earns $2,000.00 gross income per month, has no other dependents, files taxes using the Single status claiming only himself as a dependent, has a pre-tax cost for health insurance of $200.00 per month and has a visitation percentage of 7%. This entire family resides in California.

Step 1 Each parent’s net income should be determined using the California Child Support Calculator by inputting factors in one side of the Guideline Calculator and leaving the other side blank. When this is done using the facts above, we find that Frank’s net income is: $1,483.00, Claire’s is $1,155.00, and Donald’s is $1,515.00. (See resources 1-3 Attached)

Step 2 Apply Section 4055 to each parent’s net disposable income considering all of the parents’ income instead of just two parents. $CS=K[HN-(H\%)(TN)]$

CS or Child Support is equal to the amount of all parents’ income (K) (which is calculated as one plus the approximate percentage of time that the parent has visitation compared to the other parents if the percentage of time is less than or equal to 50% or two minus the percentage of time if the percentage of time is greater than 50%) multiplied by a specific fraction depending on the total net income of all parents (see resource 4 attached), multiplied by the parent’s net monthly disposable income (HN) less a percentage of time the parent has the child compared to the other parents (H%), multiplied by the total net monthly disposable income of all parents (TN).

This applies to each parent in the scenario above as follows:

Frank 14% visitation / 1,483.00 net income

$$CS=K[HN-(H\%)(TN)]$$

$$CS=(1+.14)(.25) [1483.00-(.14)(1483+1155+1515)]$$

$$CS= (.285)[1483-(581.42)]$$

$$CS=(.285)[901.58]$$

$$CS=257.00$$

Donald 7% visitation / 1,515 net income

$$CS=K[HN-(H\%)(TN)]$$

$$CS=(1+.07)(.25) [1515.00-(.07)(1483+1155+1515)]$$

$$CS= (.2675)[1515-(290.71)]$$

$$CS=(.2675)[1224.29]$$

$$CS=327.00$$

Claire 79%visitation / 1,155 net income

$$CS=K[HN-(H\%)(TN)]$$

$$CS=(2-.79)(.25) [1155.00-(.79)(1483+1155+1515)]$$

$$CS= (.3025)[1155-(3280.87)]$$

$$CS=(.3025)[-2125.71]$$

$$CS=-643.00$$

Since Claire's obligation is negative you would request that both Frank and Donald pay Claire however, since Frank and Donald both have income below 1,607.00 (the current low income adjustment threshold, the low income adjustment would also need to be applied to each of their respective obligations.

Apply the Low Income Adjustment if the individual parent would otherwise qualify for it.

Pursuant to Family Code Section 4055(b)(7) the formula for calculating the low income adjustment is as follows: Guideline, multiplied by a fraction where the obligor's net is subtracted from the low income adjustment threshold of 160,7 and that figure is divided by 1607. The result is subtracted from Guideline support to achieve a range of support.

The formula is as follows:

$$CS[(1607-\text{obligor's net})/1607]=LIA$$

$$CS-LIA=\text{low range of support.}$$

This applies to Frank as follows:

Frank's CS=257.00 and his Net was 1,483.00 therefore:

$$257.00[(1607-1483)/1607]$$

$$257[.0771624]=20$$

$$257-20=237$$

Therefore the range of support for Frank would be 237-257.

This applies to Donald as follows:

Donald's CS=327.00 and his Net was 1,515.00 therefore:

$$327.00[(1607-1515)/1607]$$

$$327[.0572495]=19$$

$$327-19=308$$

Therefore the range of support for Donald would be 308-327.

The above methodology provides the ability to calculate support pursuant to the Guideline in multiple parent cases creating a presumption from which a court could choose to deviate. However, given that the methodology treats multiple parent families like all other families in California, to the degree that the total income and visitation percentages of all parents are considered in calculating the ratios for support, it is unclear why the fact that the child has multiple parents alone would be a basis for deviation. Nevertheless, given the statute's express language that a case involving more than 2 parents is a basis for deviation, it would likely not be an abuse of discretion if a court chose to do so.

Attached as resource 5, are sample Points and Authorities that support the above methodology. Also attached as resource 6, is the methodology applied to a case where one of the parent's has a 2nd child support obligation. Lastly, attached as resource 7 is a screen shot of an excel spreadsheet that can calculate the basic formula described above. It is expected that more scenarios, such as 2 parents who are intact and have a child they share with a third parent who lives outside the home, and others will evolve and as such resource 6 will need to evolve with it until such time as either the Guideline Calculator is programmed to address these scenarios or the law evolves to address the ever changing needs of the families we serve.

7. TDCSS' records reflect that Mr. A had reported earnings in 2019 of $16779.00 and that this income was earned in Oklahoma.

8. TDCSS' records reflect that Mr. H had earnings in 2019 as follows: Unemployment benefits of $595.00 and earnings of $1,496.00.

I. WHILE THE STATEWIDE UNIFORM GUIDELINE SHALL BE APPLIED IN CASES WHERE A CHILD HAS MORE THAN 2 PARENTS, THIS CANNOT CURRENTLY BE DONE USING POPULAR PROPRIETARY PROGRAMS OR THE CALIFORNIA GUIDELINE CHILD SUPPORT CALCULATOR .

Pursuant to Family Code Section 4052.5(a); "[t]he statewide uniform guideline, as required by federal regulations, shall apply in any case in which a child has more than two parents. The court shall apply the guideline by dividing child support obligations among the parents based on income and amount of time spent with the child by each parent, pursuant to Section 4053."

While Family Code Section 4053 sets forth the basic principles that the statewide uniform guideline is driven by, it does not establish precisely how child support is to be calculated. Rather, that information is found in Family Code Section 4055. Family Code Section 4055 sets forth the formula by which child support is to be calculated and determines obligations based on income and the amount of time spent with the child by a parent. However, the formula was intended for a two parent situation and does not contemplate a situation that involves more than two parents. (See generally, Family Code Section 4055 et. seq.)

Pursuant to Family Code Section 4052.5(b); "...after calculating the amount of support owed by each parent under the guideline, the presumption that the guideline amount of support is correct may be rebutted if the court finds that the application of the guideline in that case would be unjust or inappropriate due to special circumstances, pursuant to Section 4057." Such a circumstance is expressed in Family Code Section 4057(b)(5)(D) as follows: "Application of the formula would be unjust or inappropriate due to special circumstances in the particular case. These special circumstances include, but are not limited to...[c]ases in which a child is found to have more than two parents."

As such, Family Code Section 4052.5(b) seems to contemplate some calculation of support from which the court can find the general presumption that it is correct may be rebutted. However, Family Code Section 4052.5(c) confirms that no "reprogramming of the California Child Support Automation System" was required as a result of the new law allowing for more than two parents.

(Referencing California Family Code Section 7601(c).) The California Child Support Automation System includes the California Guideline Child Support Calculator (hereinafter "Guideline Calculator") which Courts are required to use in any case where the California Department of Child Support Services, through a local child support agency, is involved. California Rules of Court, rule 5.275(j).

In addition, to date, no known proprietary calculator exists that can achieve a calculation for more than 2 parents that follows the formula set forth in Family Code Section 4055. Therefore, TDCSS asserts that the following method is an accurate method by which a court can both: apply the formula set forth in Family Code Section 4055 for purposes of establishing a calculation and make an order consistent with the principles set forth in Family Code Section 4053.

II. THE PROPRIETARY CALCULATORS AND GUIDELINE CALCULATOR CAN BE USED TO DETERMINE EACH PARENTS TRUE NET INCOME AND THEN

THAT INCOME CAN BE MANUALLY APPLIED TO THE FORMULA SET FORTH IN FAMILY CODE SECTION 4055.

Following the directions set forth by the statutes discussed above, the first step is to calculate pursuant to the guideline. (See, Family Code Section 4052.5(b)) In order to do that, one must determine the net disposable income of each parent. (See, Family Code Section 4055(b)(1)(E).) Both the proprietary calculators and the Guideline Calculator are calibrated to the tax code and are designed to determine net disposable income for parents. (California Guideline Child Support Calculator User Guide (August 2020) at <http://www.childsup.ca.gov/Resources/CalculateChildSupport.aspx> [as of Apr. 28, 2020].) The programs can still be used for this purpose by inputting information for a parent in either column of the calculators.

In the case before the court, Mr. A's net disposable income for support is $724.00 per month based on reported earnings for 2019 (from January 2019 through and including December 2019) of $16,779.00, his likely child support obligation for the other 3 children he shares with Mother, taxes for Oklahoma at 1.78% based on his income tax liability per Oklahoma's tax website, and the average of his net income in both calculations (See, Exhibit "A" $$598.00 + \850.00 Exhibit "B" $=1448.00/2=$724.00$.)

TDCSS asserts that mother should be imputed up to Mr. A's level of income as per her Income and Expense Declaration she has some ability to earn and is currently earning approximately $250.00 per month. She has no reported earnings since 1996 and is receiving cash aid at this time per TDCSS records.

Imputation of income to mother would cause her to have net disposable income to be $1,953.00 per month based on her claiming all 4 of her children (See, Exhibits "A" and "B".)

Mr. H's net disposable income would be 232.00 based on reported earnings and unemployment income from October 2012 through and including September 2013 (Wages during that time of 2203.00 and Unemployment income during that time of $595.00). (See, Exhibit "C".)

Pursuant to Family Code Section 4055(a), "The statewide uniform guideline for determining child support orders is as follows: $CS = K[HN - (H\%)(TN)]$." Per Family Code Section 4055(b) the equation should be interpreted as follows: Child Support (CS) is equal to the amount of both parents' income (K) (which is calculated as one plus the approximate percentage of time that the high earner has or will have primary physical responsibility for the children compared to the other parent if the percentage of time is less than or equal to 50% or two minus the percentage of time if the percentage of time is greater than 50%) multiplied by a specific fraction depending on the total net disposable income of both parents, multiplied by the high earner's net monthly disposable income (HN) less a percentage of time the high earner has the child compared to the other parent

(H%), multiplied by the total net monthly disposable income of both parties (TN). Emphasis is added to this interpretation for portions of the formula that clearly assume a 2 parent scenario.

As such, TCDCSS asserts that application of this guideline with a 3 parent scenario, such as that determined here, is most equitably applied as follows. When calculating for Mr. A, if timeshares are: Mr. A having 10%, Mr. H having 25% and Mother having 65% (as indicated in Mother's Income and Expense Declarations Filed April 3, 2020, and the court interprets both parents' incomes to mean all legal parents, then calculating Mr. A's obligation pursuant to the formula is:

$$CS = K(1+.10)(.25) [HN(724) - (H\%.10)(TN2909)] = 119.1025.$$

To demonstrate this another way, per Family Code Section 4055(b) the equation should be interpreted as follows: Child Support (CS) is equal to the amount of both parents' income (K) (which is calculated as one plus the approximate percentage of time that the high earner has or will have primary physical responsibility for the children (.10 for Mr. A) compared to the other parent if the percentage of time is less than or equal to 50% or two minus the percentage of time if the percentage of time is greater than 50%) multiplied by a specific fraction depending on the total net disposable income of both parents (.25 per statute based on total income of all parents of less than 6,666), multiplied by the high earner's net monthly disposable income (HN) (724 for Mr. A) less a percentage of time the high earner has the child compared to the other parent (H%) (.10 for Mr. A), multiplied by the total net monthly disposable income of both parties (TN) (2909=724 Mr. A, 1953 Mother, 232 Mr. H).

Resource 5

Thus, the arithmetic for Mr. A would be done as follows:

$$CS = K(1+.10)(.25) [HN(724) - (H\%.10)(TN2909)]$$

$$CS = K(1+.10)(.25) [HN(724) - 290.90]$$

$$CS = K(1+.10)(.25) [433.10]$$

$$CS = K(1.1)(.25) [433.10]$$

$$CS=K(.275) [433.10]=119.1025$$

CS=119.1025 Mr. A to Pay.

Applying the low income adjustment as required by Family Code Section 4055(b)(7), Mr. A's obligation could be reduced to $57.00 for H $(119.1025)(1500-724/1500)=61.6157$; $(119.1025-61.6157)=57.4868$.

Based on the analysis indicated above, the arithmetic for Mother would be as follows (note only the differences are emphasized):

$$CS = K(2-.65)(.25) [HN(1953) - (H\%.65)(TN2909)]$$

$$CS = K(2-.65)(.25) [HN(1953) - 1890.85]$$

Resource 5

$$CS = K(2 - .65) (.25) [62.15]$$

$$CS = K(1.35) (.25) [62.15]$$

$$CS = .3375 [62.15]$$

$$CS = 20.975625$$

$$CS = 21.00$$

Thus, mother could be ordered to pay $21.00 in child support for H.

Based on the same analysis as indicated above, the arithmetic for Mr. H would be as follows (note again only the differences are emphasized):

$$CS = K(1 + .25) (.25) [HN(232) - (H\%.25) (TN2909)]$$

$$CS = K(1 + .25) (.25) [HN(232) - 727.25]$$

$$CS = K(1 + .25) (.25) [-495.25]$$

$$CS = K(1.25) (.25) [-495.25]$$

$$CS = K .3125 [-154.76]$$

$$CS = (-48.3625)$$

Thus, according to the formula, Mr. H needs to receive support of approximately $48.00 for H.

In conclusion, based on the figures above TCDCSS makes the following child support order requests: Mother's obligation for

Resource 5

H be set at zero as she is cash-aided with other children (H is a Maximum Family Grant Child), Mr. H be ordered to pay Mr. A $57.00 but only if Mr. H makes a request for support, and Mr. H's obligation be set at zero as per the formula he is due support from the other parents.

Further, if the court makes orders consistent with those requested above, TCDCSS requests the court also order that Mr. A be obligated to pay support of $203.00 for the other 3 children he shares with Mother. (See Exhibit "D".)

Multiple Parent Family Calculation Scenario:

One of the Parents has another child or children in another relationship and that must be considered when preparing the multiple parent family calculation.

Take the example in the article and add to it that Frank has a child, Bernadette, with another woman named Hillary. Frank's obligation for Bernadette is being modified at the same time that support is being set for Zoey. Hillary earns minimum wage full time and has Bernadette all of the time except for Frank's visitation which was set such that his timeshare is 10%. Hillary claims only herself and Bernadette and has no other credits or deductions to be considered in the calculation.

First, we must again determine Frank's net, only this time; a calculation of the net must consider Frank's multiple obligations to Zoey and Bernadette. A good starting place is to use the calculation of Frank's net we used earlier, only this time we should include 1 hardship (preliminarily to reflect his obligation to Zoey), change the visitation to 10%, and include Hillary's information. (See Resource 6A)

Note that the calculation reflects a support obligation for Zoey, by way of a hardship deduction value of $211.00, and as such, reflects net disposable income for Frank of $1272.00. The multiple parent calculation (the calculation for Zoey) should now be run using Frank's net of $1272.00 as follows:

$$CS=K[HN-(H\%)(TN)]$$

$$CS=(1+.14)(.25) [1272.00-(.14)(1272+1155+1515)]$$

$$CS= (.285)[1272-(551.88)]$$

$$CS=(.285)[720.12]$$

$$CS=205.00$$

Applying the LIA we would have a range of support due of $162.00-$205.00

$$205[(1607-1272)/1607]$$

$$205[.2084629]=43$$

$$205-43=162$$

You could stop here, but arguably, given that the calculation for Bernadette showed support for Zoey at $211.00 you would want to correct that calculation to reflect Zoey's obligation at $162.00 and you would do this by removing the hardship from Bernadette's calculation, and instead, showing other child support paid of $162.00. Doing so would result in a support obligation for Bernadette of $229.00 (See attached Resource 6B). You might also notice that now, Frank's net income is reflected as $1321.00.

Again, you could stop here, but this calls into question the accuracy of Zoey's calculation based on less net income, so you could run Zoey's again as follows:

$$CS=K[HN-(H\%)(TN)]$$

$$CS=(1+.14)(.25) [1321.00-(.14)(1321+1155+1515)]$$

$$CS= (.285)[1321-(558.74)]$$

$$CS=(.285)[762.26]$$

$$CS=217.00$$

Applying the LIA we would have a range of support due of $178.00-$217.00

$$217[(1607-1321)/1607]$$

$$217[.1779713]=39$$

$$217-39=178$$

If at this point you wanted to run Bernadette's calculation again to demonstrate Zoey's obligation at 178.00 you could. (See Resource 6C). As you can see, you could go back and forth this way for some time, and if you did, you would eventually reach a point (much like two parent calculations for obligors with multiple cases) where the numbers stop changing. In this case, that happens when you show net income of $1309.00 in the multiple parent calculation which causes Zoey's obligation to be as indicated below ($174.00) and Bernadette's to be at $225.00 (See Resource 6D).

$$CS=K[HN-(H\%)(TN)]$$

$$CS=(1+.14)(.25) [1309.00-(.14)(1309+1155+1515)]$$

$$CS= (.285)[1309-(557.06)]$$

$$CS=(.285)[751.94]$$

$$CS=214.00$$

Applying the LIA we would have a range of support due of $174.00-$214.00

$$214[(1607-1309)/1607]$$

$$214[.1854387]=40$$

$$214-40=174$$
